RUSH COUNTY MAN ELECTED DIRECTOR

Charles V. Spencer of Richland Township Named Officer of Producers' Association

RECOGNITION FOR COUNTY

Rush County Farm Bureau Incorporated and Takes Out Membership—Local Farmers Attend

Charles V. Spencer of Richland township was elected a director of the Producers' Commission association, which held its first annual meeting Thursday in Indianapolis, and the Rush county farmer was elected by a majority of ten thousand votes.

The election of Mr. Spencer not only recognizes his ability as a man, but the standard of Rush county as a live stock producing unit. The other director elected was Oscar Swank of Montgomery county, who received a majority of 2,000 votes.

This county was represented by 15 or 20 farmers at the annual meeting, and Fred Bell, representative of the Rush County Farm Bureau, cast his 1025 votes in the election, as he represented that number of members in this county.

The matter of incorporating the county farm bureau has been completed and county membership taken in the producers' association, and entitles them to receive their share of patronage dividends in proportion to the amount of business sent to the association.

The pastboard hogs, used last year at the Indiana Rotary Club conference, advertising Rush county as the banner hog raising county in the United States, were also used by the Rush county farmers yesterday and were strung around the convention hall. Illinois farmers, who supported Rush county, also wore the cardboard pigs.

At the meeting which was held to review the work of the association since its organization last May, it was brought out that the association which is an outgrowth of the Farm Bureau Federation work has sold more than $1,000,000 worth of live stock each month since its formation. It is composed of live stock raisers in Indiana and Illinois who dispose of their stock through the Indianapolis market.

The principal address of the meeting Thursday was made by John G. Brown of Monon, president of the National Producers' association of which the state organization is a branch. Talks were made also by

ACCEPTS CALL TO RUSHVILLE CHURCH

Gibson Wilson Of Bremen, O., Will Take Up Pastorate Here The First Sunday In February

IN MINISTRY FOR 19 YEARS

The Rev. Gibson Wilson of Bremen, Ohio, has accepted the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here, it was announced today, and will begin his ministry in Rushville the first Sunday in February.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, who has been pastor of the Bremen church for the past eight years, is an Indiana man and a graduate of Wabash college at Crawfordsville, Ind. He received his theological work at Princeton university. The new pastor has been in the ministry nineteen years and has held three pastorates.

Mrs. Wilson is also a native of Indiana, having resided at Crawfordsville before her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have three children, two daughters and one son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and family will move here during the week of January 22 and will take up their residence in the church manse at 122 West Fifth street.

The church has been without a pastor since last fall when the Rev. Walter L. Kunkel resigned.

French Withdraw From Heart of
The City—Germans Not to Meet Violence With Violence

Coblenz, Jan. 12—Next Friday has been set as the date when the Stars and Stripes come down from Coblenz flagpole, and the American army of occupation leaves to embark for Savannah. The United States troops will entrain for Antwerp, and sail on the transport St. Mihiel January 21.

Es-sen, Jan. 12—Es-sen was quiet today.

During the night the French withdrew from the heart of the city and when citizens appeared about their duties this morning they encountered only an occasional blue-coated sentry pacing the downtown streets.

The bulk of the invading forces had been withdrawn to the suburbs. The absence of tanks, armored cars and machine guns was remarked. German traffic police were in charge throughout the city.

Surprised at the absence of warlike demonstrations, citizens of Es-sen who had acted sullenly when the city first was seized were apparently engrossed in an effort to master their resentment. Stiff German smiles were exchanged as occasional groups of French officers appeared.

The French commanded the Kaiserhof hotel, evicting both permanent and transient guests and press correspondents who had made this their headquarters. The engineer control commission and a group of French officers moved in.

Uneasiness is expressed regarding what may transpire tomorrow which is pay day, which the miners have been accustomed to come in from the coal fields and drink rather

DAUGHERTY RESTS AT FRENCH LICK

Attorney General Refuses To Answer Questions Regarding His Exoneration By Congress

THERE MERELY FOR A REST

French Lick, Ind., Jan. 2.—Attorney General Daugherty resting here at Tom Taggart's famous watering place after his exoneration of impeachment charges by congress, refused to comment today on anything.

"The attorney general is suffering from a bad cold and cannot talk now," A. O. Smith, one of Daugherty's assistants told newspapermen.

Daugherty refused to discuss his exoneration, the Ku Klux Klan the delayed prosecution of coal miners and operators on conspiracy charges or any other subject when Smith transmitted the question of reporters to him.

Smith said Daugherty came here unaccompanied except by his brother, M. S. Daugherty of Washington Courthouse, O.

PREACHES ON THE THREE PRODIGALS

E. Richard Edwards Applies Story of Lost Sheep, Lost Coin and Lost
Son To Life Today

SOUL SEARCHING SERMON

Says Many Men And Women Do Not Intend To Get Lost, But That They Are Enticed Away

Another large audience assembled at the Main Street Christian church Thursday evening to hear one of the ablest sermons yet delivered by the Rev. E. Richards on "Three Parables About Three Prodigals" in which he told the story of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the lost son.

These Parables were given by Christ in answer to his critics who found fault with him because he associated with publicans and sinners and to demonstrate the divine interest in things that are lost," the Rev. Mr. Edwards said. The sheep was lost not deliberately or intentionally but because it "nibbled" itself away from the safety and shelter of the fold, enticed by the succulent tufts of grass it was seeking.

So with many men and women. They do not intend to be bad or get lost from the holy things but are led away by the enticing pleasures of life until they are lost to Christ and the church.

It was regarded as a soul searching sermon that ought to have been heard by every professed Christian in Rushville. Yet not a single unkind or harsh word was spoken.

Tonight he speaks on "The Trophy Rooms of the Soul." To this service the young people of the city are especially invited.

At the Sunday morning service he will speak on "Meeting God on the Mount," at 230 a special meeting for men and boys on the theme "How the

E. RICHARD EDWARDS

Tramp Came back," and at 7:00 o'clock on "God's Radio Equipment: Listening In." At all of these services there will be special music with Cole's orchestra Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Derby Green sang a beautiful solo at the service last evening. Mrs. Neff Ashworth will sing at the service tonight.

SIX LEADERS WILL SPEAK

Prominent Republicans To Address
Republican Editors Of State

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Six Republican leaders will speak at the annual banquet of the Republican Editorial association here, Jan. 26, Fredrick E. Shortemeier, secretary of the Republican State committee, announced today.

The principal address will be made by George Lockwood, secretary of the Republican National committee.

Talks also will be made by Governor McCray, Albert J. Beveridge, Senators New and Watson and Miss Etelka Rockenbach.

29th Session

ATTENDANCE EXCEEDS 1,000

Wind Mill Farm Power Plant For Electric Lights Is Discussed By Prof. Aitkenhead

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 12.—Annual meetings of the four dairy cattle breed associations, and a series of practical demonstrations on various farm practices, concluded the twenty-ninth annual farmers' short course at Purdue University here this afternoon. The attendance for the week will far exceed the 1,000 mark, but definite tabulated figures will not be available for a day or two. The dairy organizations holding their meetings were Holstein-Friesian, Ayrshire, Jersey and Guernsey breeders' associations.

The morning program opened with classes in corn and livestock judging for the corn growers and stockmen. The dairymen heard a discussion of the value of milk for hogs and poultry by C. M. Vestal and Prof. A. G. Philips from the animal husbandry and poultry staffs, respectively. Prof. William Aitkenhead described the making of electricity by a generator run from a windmill, while Prof. S. D. Connor spoke on fertilizers to use for potatoes. F. C. Gaylord discussed potato seed stocks and Mrs. Charles A. Kintner, of Corydon, discussed handling farm flocks. Dr. B. H. Hubbard, of the University of Wisconsin, spoke on "Future Prices of Farm Products". H. W. Fitting gave a demonstration of grading and packing eggs for shipment. P. G. Riley spoke on summer care of chicks.

Several members of the home economics staff spoke on menu making in the home; Prof. Mary L. Matthews discussed arrangements of furniture in the home; Miss Nelle Flaningham of the Purdue staff, gave a millinery demonstration. Such as given at farm meetings over the state.

"If the potato growers give proper attention to the cultivation and fertilization of the soil and use good seed, the average yield per acre of potatoes can be profitably doubled," said S. D. Connor, before the horticultural section. "There is a home market that will easily absorb four or five million bushels more of potatoes in Indiana."

"The greater the supply of fertilizer or manure in the soil the greater the yield with the same rainfall," Continued on Page Three

SHOOTS SON-IN-LAW AT CHURCH REVIVAL

Samuel Walks Kills Fred Hasse at Mt. Zion, Morgan County, as Congregation Sings

IN SELF DEFENSE, HE SAYS

(By United Press)

Martinsville, Ind., Jan. 12.—While the congregation was singing a hymn, Samuel Walk shot and killed Fred Hasse, his son-in-law at the Mt. Zion church revival in Morgan county last night.

Three officers arrested Walk and brought him to jail where Walk told Sheriff Lefe Scott, he shot in self defense.

"Fred came up to me in the church," Walk said. "I understand you have been looking for me," he said.

"This is no place to start trouble," I told him. "Fred was carrying a lantern. He sat it down, drew a knife and came at me. I started running and tried to get away, but Fred gained on me."

Then, Walk said he pulled a .32 calibre revolver and fired. One shot struck Hasse below the breast bone the other in the side. He died.

Eighteen months ago Hasse married Walk's daughter. They separated and the trouble is said to have started then.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Rejecting preparedness pleas from army heads and others who urged an increased army, the powerful house appropriations committee, in reporting the annual army appropriation bill to the house today, recommended continuance of the army at its present strength of 125,000 men and 12,000 officers.

PLOT TO THROW RED ARMY ACROSS RHINE

International Communist Intrigue Charge Following French Roundup of Radicals

PLANNED TO INCITE REVOLT

Paris, Jan. 12.—An international communist plot which was to bring the bolshevik army across Germany to the banks of the Rhine and thence into France was charged today against Deputy Cachin, and communist leaders arrested in Thursday's round-up.

The minister of justice filed a request that the chamber of deputies raise Cachin parliamentary immunity so that he might be arrested and prosecuted on this charge. Cachin, Mornousseau, Semard and Treint are to be accused of fostering a revolution in Germany, in which the Russian army was to intervene. It is charged that Treint stated that if the Red army reached the Rhine French communists would open the gates of their towns to the bolsheviks.

The police claim to have uncovered a plot of international communists, including those of Russia, France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Holland and Sweden to stir up revolutionary troubles in Germany and Poland, basing their action on the Ruhr occupations. This would give Russia's Red army an excuse to march through Poland into Germany and intervene, aiding the proletarian revolution.

SUPER GOVERNMENT EXPOSED IN PROBE

Gave Orders To Authorities And Punished Persons Without Trial
In Morehouse Parish

STATE SHIFTS ITS COURSE

By E. A. SHELLNUT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 12.—A super-government, which gave orders to the constituted authorities and punished persons without trial, is being revealed in Morehouse Parish.

Shifting its line of evidence taking the state, in the open hearing in the brutal murders of Wyatt Daniel and Thomas Richards continued today showing the scope of the invisible government which has ruled this community for more than a year. "Establishment of the fact that a super-government has been uncovered in Morehouse parish" will be the aim today, Attorney General Cocco said.

Prominent citizens were called to testify today of crimes and outrages which occurred prior to the savage murders in an effort to connect the super-government with the reign of terror culminating two deaths.

FLUE BURNS OUT

A flue burning at the residence of Edwin Megee, 327 West Third street called the fire department this morning shortly before ten o'clock. The chemical truck made the run, but their services were not needed. In telephoning the alarm, it was stated that only the flue was burning out, and the truck was sent to the scene, where the firemen remained until all danger had passed.

BILL FOR COUNTY TO BE SCHOOL UNIT

Measure Recommended by Governor
McCray Is Introduced in State Legislature

PROVIDES FOR BOARD OF FIVE

Censorship of Movies and Lifting of Ban on German in Schools Other Bills Presented

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Censorship of movies, lifting the ban on teaching of German language in schools and establishment of a county as a unit of school administration, were provided in bills presented to the Indiana legislature today.

The censorship bill would create a board of censors and empower it to bar films of obscene nature, immoral, indecent, or sacrilegious, and all those picturing bull or prize fights. The board would consist of three members, the chairman who would receive an annual salary of $3,000 and the others $2,500. It was introduced by Senator Steels of Knox and was identically the same as the one defeated by the 1921 legislature.

Senator William Swain of Pendleton presented the measure to make the county instead of the township a unit in school administration. The bill was recommended by Governor McCray. It would place schools in charge of a non-partisan board of education to be composed of five persons elected by popular vote.

The German language bill was introduced by Representative Eickhoff of Fort Wayne. It would repeal the law enacted during the war which barred the teaching of the language in Indiana schools.

Other bills introduced included: Two bills favoring abolishment of the office of county highway superintendent.

Thirty days imprisonment for first offense for bootleggers (duplicate of one introduced in senate.)

Establishing a closed season for all fishing from April 30 to June 16.

Forbidding advertisements of marriage parlors.

Providing that street car companies operating under public service commission must pave between tracks and two feet on each side (duplicate of bill pending in senate).

FARM LEASE INVOLVED IN TRIAL HEARD TODAY

Case Of Jesse H. Wilson Against Cora J. Wilson And Norman Cain In Circuit Court

CASE FROM MARION COUNTY

The attention of the circuit court today was being taken up with the case of Jesse H. Wilson and Cora J. Wilson against Norman Cain, and many witnesses were being heard. The complaint was to reform a lease and involved an agreement existing between the tenant and owner of a farm.

The case was expected to be finished today and the evidence was being heard without the intervention of the jury. The regular panel of the jury has been ordered Monday, when the state case against Fred and Earl Clevenger is scheduled for trial, in which they are charged with petit larceny.

A case filed originally in the Marion circuit court will be sent here for trial, according to a dispatch from Shelbyville. The case of William H. Fisher, et al., against the Crescent Finance Company, et al., is the title of the complaint, and the action is for injunction. The defendants the change of venue from Marion county, and it was sent to Shelby county, and the plaintiffs secured the second change, being sent here.

Diogenes Out of a Job

DIOGENES, the Greek cynic and philosopher, was a successful advertiser. He lived in a barrel to advertise himself. At high noon he was wont to light his lantern and stroll about the streets of Athens, "In search," he said, "of an honest man." In this way he advertised one of the prevailing failings of the classic Greeks. For among the ancients, the most successful merchant was the biggest skinflint. The cleverest buyer was the loudest haggler.

There's no room for a cynic in modern advertising. Advertising, today, calls attention to the open-faced honesty of business. It has standardized almost every article you can buy. You know what to expect and what to pay. You don't have to dicker, bargain and haggle to know that you are getting as good as you give.

That is why it pays to read advertisements and buy advertised goods. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its faithful performance, its lasting usefulness or its definite quality.

If you value constant satisfaction—if you want to get your full money's worth every time—read the advertisements.

To take advantage of an advertisement is to get full value.

but not only that, the greater the yield of potatoes, the better the quality," said Mr. Conner, in advocating the use of more manure and fertilizers.

In discussing the use of milk for chickens, Prof. Phillips said that "skimmed milk and buttermilk as sources of animal protein for chickens showed themselves as having feeding value from $1.00 to $5.00 per 100 pounds when measured in egg production. Experiments extending over 11 years, comparing milk with meat scraps, tankage, fish-meal, cottonseed meal, and no animal protein established without doubt the wonderful value and the real need of feeding milk by-products to laying hens. They should be allowed all they want to consume and no water offered except in hot weather. When milk is used as the sole drink, no other animal protein is necessary. For baby chicks, its value cannot be estimated as the morality is kept down and pullets are grown with a splendid finish."

Mr. Vestal gave the results of many experiments in feeding of skimmed milk or buttermilk to hogs.

Mrs. Kinter, speaking before the poultry section, urged the keeping of 200 or 300 hens on the farm, rather than 50 to 60 to 100 as is done many places. This number may be taken care of with the same labor at 100 and return more profit, she said.

Prof. Aitkenhead, discussing farm lighting, described the windmill farm power plant which was being tested at Purdue. The generator is on top of the windmill and stores up electric current when the wind turns the wheel. This current is stored in batteries and used for farm lighting and power.

"The records show several successive quit days in September when the electricity stores in the batteries had to be conserved, but during most of the months, more power was supplied than was necessary for lighting and small power requirements," he said. "This application of wind power is still young but the indications are that the windmill has taken on a new job, which it can successfully hold down."

Its fame has spread from shore to shore until it is now looked upon by women everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills. It has been proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, which is a marvelous record for any remedy to hold.

Opposed to Gasoline Tax

Indicating the organization of determined opposition to the proposed tax on gasoline, owners of motor trucks all over Indiana who do not operate their vehicles for hire, have joined with other automobile organizations representing automobile
dealers, and the Hoosier State Automobile association, representing all owners, in a protest against such a law in Indiana.

The attitude of the owners of commercial vehicles not for hire declared at a recent conference for the retention of all present taxes and fees accruing to the State Highway Commission, plus graduated increases in motor vehicle license
fees sufficient to permit the Highway Commission to match, dollar-for-dollar, the federal aid money now available, amounting to more than $11,500,000 by the end of 1925.

In a statement issued it was pointed out that the commercial car user who hauls for hire is only a very small part of the total number of trucks and that the vast majority of these commercial cars are used by large tax paying farmers and business houses incidental to their regular business. "We wish to make it plain that in our opinion this gasoline tax advocated by the 'haul for hire' people is not desired by the vast majority of other commercial car users. Why should not these for-hire trucks be under the supervision of the Public Service Commission and be required to pay compensation with other common carriers, in view of the fact that such trucks use roads provided for them by the public without cost other than the same as any other motor vehicle?" The statement says:

This conference, in common with the majority of automobile owners in the state, could not see why the generosity of the motoring public and its desire to support the good roads program should be imposed on to saddle other people's taxes on the automobile. Advocates of the "gas" tax say that a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and doubling of the motor license fees will be necessary for Indiana to obtain its share of the federal aid money.

The statement issued following the conference calls attention to the fact, which is not generally known,
that Indiana is one of the few states where a personal property tax is collected on automobiles. While in many states the motor license fee is much higher than Indiana, the automobile owners are relieved of any property tax on their machines.

It is advocated that this tax be retained in Indiana, increase slightly by graduated scale the license fees
and retain the funds from inheritance taxation, and the small state tax levy, as advocated by the state and local trade associations and by the Hoosier State Automobile Association, and ample funds will be available for all highway purposes—
and this, too, without a cent of increase in cost of collection over the present method. It must be remem-
collected an enormous tax of 5% on automobiles, accessories and repair parts, for the federal government, while perfumes, pianos, phonographs
and the like are now relieved of the Federal excise tax. Good roads benefit every one and general property in Indiana should continue to bear
some part of the cost.

British Savings Plan

The British treasury has a savings plan very similar to the one in this country. For each 16 shillings invested, the buyer gets 20 shillings, or a pound, in five years. In the United States for each $82 invested,
the buyer gets $100 in five years.
With the British certificate the gain is 25 percent, and with the American Treasury Savings Certificate the gain is about 22 percent. It is stated that up to November 11, 1922, the British government had sold over 601,000,000 pounds of its certificates. In the United States the outstanding savings certificates, and the War Savings Certificates that were their immediate predecessors,
reach a total of only $700,000,000.
Assuming the British population to be half of our own, the figures show that the average British citizen has invested more than eight times as much in his government's savings
securities than has the average American citizen. What is the matter with us? Are we to be outdone in thrift by the English?

SPLENDID SYSTEM USED

Tonight Butler Plays Purdue And Omars And Wabash Clash At Indianapolis Saturday

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—No game has ever won the place in the center of the athletic stage in Indiana equal to basketball.

It has been estimated that there are from 400 to 600 high school basketball games in the state each week. There are at least 400 independent teams in action in various cities and every college in Indiana that attempts anything in athletics has a basketball team.

The class of basketball played in Indiana colleges appears to grow better each year. Butler's victories over Wisconsin, Illinois and Chicago, the victory of Notre Dame over Iowa and Wabash's wonderful record made on its southern trip proved that the best basketball in the country is played in Indiana.

This is due to the splendid system used in conducting the annual high school tournaments. It might be mentioned that Indiana also leads in independent basketball.

The time for some of the most important games of the season seems to have been reached. Tonight Butler will play Purdue at Lafayette On January 15. Purdue starts its Big Ten conference season, meeting Northwestern at Lafayette.

Possibly no game will attract a larger crowd than the one between Indianapolis Omars and Wabash at Tomlinson hall in Indianapolis January 13. The record made by these two wonderful basketball teams have been equalled by a few outfits in the game.

Indiana will play Illinois University at Urbana January 13. This game should prove a fast one and if Indiana can win, they will be real championship contenders. Notre Dame has one of the best basketball teams in its history. Notre Dame will play Armour at Notre Dame January 15. Butler will meet Rose Poly at Indianapolis January 15.

Em-Roe Player in Line-up of Rushvill Independents Who Defeat
Carthage Yankee Five

FINAL COUNT IS 36 TO 25

The Rushville Independents won an exciting contest from the Carthage Yankee Five team at Carthage last night, by the score of 36 to 25. The Yanks rolled up an 8 to 1 victory lead early in the game, but it was soon overcome. Rushville led at the end of the first half, 18 to 13.

Stewart, former high school star, and a member of the Em-Roes, hung up 22 markers for Rushville, and his floor work was brilliant. Hutchinson also performed well for the locals. M. Henley and Moore were the outstanding players for Carthage.

The line-up and summary.

Rushville 36	Carthage 25

3 Teams Loom in A. L. Fight

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York.—There is a general inclination in baseball circles to consider rather lightly the New York Yankees as factors in the next pennant race.

Why?—Because no strength has been added to the club.

A team that has won two successive pennants should not be in need of reinforcements, when it is a fairly young club.

The Yankees are not an old team and while the club has not secured any more new stars, the Huggins club ought to be stronger in 1923.

The pitchers can't be any worse next year and the chances are they will be improved.

Babe Ruth will be another person and when he is playing strict attention to his business, he will be a great help to the club.

Bob Meusel, too, after being shown that he is a person of small importance on the team might work up some pep, the lack of which has prevented him from becoming a wonderful ball player.

With the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox in the race with them, the Yankees will have no run-away. The St. Louis Browns are dangerous and the Cleveland Indians are building.

The Tigers and the White Sox look like the strongest contenders. Ty Cobb has gathered himself a great team. Del Pratt at second base and Rip Collins added to his pitching staff will mean much.

Much depends, however, on the recovery of Harry Heilmann, the great batting outfielder, who broke his shoulder late last season.

It was reported recently that the bone was not knitting properly and that physicians had told Heilmann they were not sure that he would be able to swing a bat again.

Kid Gleason will have a sweet looking team of White Sox if Willie Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman from the Pacific Coast League, delivers according to expectations.

Kamm or no Kamm, the Sox look fine as they are, but a sensational hitting and fielding infielder may be the difference between the pennant and the contender.

Kid Gleason deserves to be rated

as one of the greatest managers in the game. After the housecleaning of 1920 he had nothing left but a second baseman, a catcher and a pitcher that later deserted him.

In two years time he collected a team that isn't far removed from the championship class and might get there next season.

In the same class with Gleason as a builder, is the Hon. Sir Patrick Moran, of the Cincinnati Reds.

Pat had a pennant winner and a world's champion outfit in 1919, but the glory went to the heads of the boys and Pat, being of one-hoss ideas, canned almost the whole team.

Of the 1919 champions only Dandberg, Roush, Duncan, Wingo and Luque remain.

In three years, Moran has assembled a team that looks like the one that has to be beaten for the next National League pennant.

Despite the frequency with which his structures have crashed under the weight of mid-season burdens, Connie Mack is a builder himself and his Athletics are going to get there—not next season, but not many after that.

Mack has started to spend money and he doesn't need much more to get a fighting first division team.

Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

Columbus Bull Dogs are comin',
Bow, wow, wow!
Let's tie a can to 'em,
Wow, wow, wow!

WE SAY HELLO, GINGS

If that person who didn't believe that Gings had a team, will come to the Graham Annex tonight, they can see 'em in action against the R. H. S. colts.

Jimmie Hyatt will take his Arlington tossers up to Fairview tonight. These two teams appear evenly matched, but Arlington is goin' to put across a win, Jimmie says.

The Newcastle Courier says that the entire populace of Spicecland will witness the game tonight in Newcastle. Hittin' 'em would suggest that while they are all up there, it would be a good time for the semi-annual robbery of the Spicecland bank. They're about due.

LET'S UPSET THE DOPE

"To satisfy idle curiosity of a few, we will state that the second team can't beat the first, or come anyway near it," one of the varsity squad members very cockingly boasts. He says further, "In the last practice game the varsity took them to the tune of something like 65 to 21, using a full line of subs." Hittin' 'em doesn't wish to create any ill feeling between those two teams, but why don't you varsity players do that in the big games?

Columbus isn't bringing any rooters tonight, says the Columbus Republican, because they don't think the boys will need much encouragement. So Rushville if Hittin' 'em was you, he'd play his best game of the season tonight, and make the Bull Dogs wish they hadn't come at all. Rushville fans, who have been falling by the wayside, ought to come out in large numbers tonight, and lend their support.

Ten little fingers
And ten little toes,
Waitin' for the whistle
There it goes!

Ten little fingers
And ten little toes,
Caged a field basket
So the story goes.

Ten little fingers
And ten little toes,
Didn't do it again,
And out he goes!

THE EDITOR SPEAKS

The editor of THE RUSHLITE has informed Hittin' 'em that he has the head line all set up and ready to go: RUSHVILLE VICTOR OVER COLUMBUS. He wants to know what he is going to do about it, and says that somebody has got to give us a chance to use it.

John Geraghty forgot to tell us who his foe was going to be tonight. If John's Webb team wins tonight, we will know all about it—but if he loses, no one will know it.

HERE'S SALLY AGAIN

Sally, who lives down near our alley, has interrupted us again. She admits that she never saw a basketball game, but she is reading what Hittin' 'em says every night. She tells us that she has been in Fairview many times, but she has never seen any building there that would accommodate eight basketball teams at once. Now listen, Sal o' gal, all eight of those teams don't play at once—they sorta divide the time out and each team plays a game—but this tourney stuff is too deep to explain, unless you become a regular fan.

HITTIN' 'EM WOULDN'T PLAY AT ALL

"Markin' up a Few on the Score Board," appearing in the Newcastle Courier speaks most friendly advice to one of the high school players, as follows: If Jennings plays Friday night, it would be very nice if he would wash some of the butter off his fingers before entering the contest.

WE'D SAY IT WITH FLOWERS
And from the same scribe, they speak most lovingly of their opponents.—Don't forget to knock Spicecland for a row of home knitted, chocolate covered, glass monkey wrenches.

Eight field goals, and six fouls, was Stewart's share in the 36 points amassed for the Rushville independent team at Carthage last night.

NOTHER GAME SATURDAY

Hittin' 'em saw a bill in a window down town today, in which it says there is to be another game here Saturday night. The Rushville second team is to play Huntington, and the R. H. S. faculty is to play the ineligible in high school. That's all we know about it.

CONFERENCE SCHOOLS WILL PUSH WRESTLING

"Big Ten" Will Have Many Good
Teams in the Field This Season,
According to Reports

WILL BE A POPULAR SPORT

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Big ten colleges are preparing this winter to popularize wrestling.

When college enthusiasts lock horns on the grappling mat it is a fight in earnest, and big ten coaches believe it is their duty to rescue the wrestling game from the disrepute the professionals and their "rasslin" trust have dragged it into.

Nearly all of the western conference colleges and the midwest schools will have a record string of grapplers.

The opening clash of conference teams Friday night will see two prominent football stars matched in the heavyweight division. Jim McMillen, star Illinois guard, and Larry Horton, Northwestern's crack center will furnish the feature meet of the clash between the two schools.

Wrestling in the colleges is monopolizing the minor sport interest. Football, track and basketball stars turn to wrestling as the best second for their athletic proclivities.

Ohio State's call for grapplers, brought 78 recruits. At Ames, where champions are produced annually, they do not report so many entries but they proclaim talent of championship calibre.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Northwestern, Indiana, and Chicago all claim good wrestling teams.

CALLS MINOR LEAGUES ARMS AGAINST MAJORS

President M'Carthy of Pacific Coast
League Issues Statement on Optional Player Limit

JUDGE LANDIS IS SILENT

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 12.—The call to arms of the Pacific Coast League and other minor baseball organizations against the majors went forth today in a bristling statement, issued by President Wm. McCarthy of the coast league.

The statement was aimed at Judge K. M. Landis, baseball dictator, and his decision on the optional player clause of the minor-major agreement.

"The decision of Judge Landis makes the agreement a mere scrap of paper," declared McCarthy.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, will have nothing to say "now or never" in reply to the bitter attack on the major leagues made by William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, as a result of raising the optional player limit from eight to fifteen.

The judge, a fighter, showed his admiration for another scrapper however, when after reading McCarthy's statement, he remarked that the Pacific Coast League president had done "pretty well."

"I don't think it is worth while to make a reply though," he said.

FIGHT RESULTS

Fort Thomas, Ky.—Rapid Waters, Fort Thomas, was given the referee's decision over Tommy Teague, Muncie, Ind., in a five round bout.

SPORT CHATTER

New York.—Joe Moore, New York, won his second skating title in a week by taking the metropolitan championship with a total of 100 points.

Annapolis. — Louis L. Rodila, appointed to the naval academy from the ranks of the marine corps, is the strongest midshipman at the academy. He won the all-around tests with a total of 7,345 points.

New York. —With a total entry of 1,434 for the 1925 Futurity, all records have been broken, according to West Chester Racing association. Harry Payne Whitney with 99 entries, heads the list.

New York — Very few changes in the rating of American tennis stars appear on the 1922 ranking list announced by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

William T. Tilden, holder of the unofficial world's championship title, again heads the list of mens singles stars while Molla Mallory, the women champion, is again the leader in her class. Tilden and Vincent Richards head the list in men's doubles. Arnold W. Jones of Providence is first in the junior singles and W. W. Ingram, Providence, is first in the junior doubles. David O'Loughlin, Pittsburgh, is first in the boys' singles.

New York. —In ability to secure the players demanded by the Vernon club has caused the New York Yankees to call off the deal for Jake May star pitcher of the Pacific Coast league. "Their demands were impossible," Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yanks said.

New York. — Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, has arrived today to push his challenge for a championship fight with Jack Dempsey.

"I know I'm ready and I will do anything the commission asks to prove that I am deserving the chance," Gibbons said.

Chicago — Joe Blouin out classed Joe Falcero of New York in the second block of their forty game match here. Blouin averaging 240 1-10, spilled the pins for a total of 2,402 while Falcero was counting 1,907. The score of the match now stands Blouin 4,510, Falcero 4,067.

Annapolis. — Princeton and the Navy football teams play in the new Baltimore stadium next fall on October 27.

New York. — No Sunday conflicts between the New York Giants and the Yanks will appear on the 1923 baseball schedule, according to John Heydler, national league president. The National League opens April 17 with the Giants in Boston, the Phillies in Brooklyn and the Pirates in Chicago and the Cardinals in Cincinnati.

New York — Bill Roper will retire as resident football coach at Princeton and he will be succeeded by "Red" Gennert, Freshman coach according to a report.

Cincinnati — "Rube Benton is one of the squarest ball players I ever handled and he will play with the St. Paul club if the Reds are kept from signing him," Mike Kelly, manager of the St. Paul club said.

"GRINGO"

By ALICE ROHE
(Written for United Press)
New York, Jan. 5.—Sometimes a play comes along which combines authenticity of color and atmosphere—a visual and emotional realism—and at the same time, satisfies the minority of theatre goers, who believe that drama can still be romantic which has an intellectual analysis of the causes motivating actions.

This has happened twice this season, once in "Rain" and now in Sophie Treadwell's "Gringo".

Miss Treadwell in her first play, at least in the first night version, has not escaped dramatic pitfalls. She has crowded too much in three acts, has brought a dramatically alien interest to her final curtain and has sometimes incompletely characterized her people.

But she has done two things that make her entrance into playwrighting a "hope and a promise"—she has reproduced life with the understanding of a brilliant and serious thinker, and she has given a character to the modern drama, which through the artistry of Edna Hibbard is a classic of delineation. Its importance for students of life should command attention beyond the limits of the drama.

Although Jose Ruben is the starred performer in "Gringo" and gives an excellent portrayal of Tito, the fascinating one-eyed Mexican revolutionary opportunist—evidently inspired by Villa—it is Edna Hibbard's performance as Bessie Chivers which is the outstanding feature of the play.

Miss Hibbard portrays the half-breed daughter of the American miner, Chivers. The sixteen year old girl in whom the forces of life are surging and who is responding to their call though she does not understand the cause of her unrest, is a psychological study so superbly conceived and acted as to make it without comparison in its frank thought delicately—handled projection of realism before the footlights.

There is one scene between this girl, throbbing with disturbing forces, and her father, to whom she confides her unrest, which is startling in its poignant human appeal.

It is fortunate that this character of Bessie, so intelligently written, has fallen into such intelligent hands.

"Gringo" is a play of Mexican life. The action is in the mountains, the first and second acts at the entrance of Chivers mine; the third in Tito's retreat. A truer picture of the relations of Americans and Mexicans, it is safe to say, has never been portrayed on the stage.

There are daring bits of life philosophy brought out dramatically in these contrasting peoples. And against the vivid background, where Tito's audacious figure, now fascinating women, now blackmailing Chivers, to whom he has sold his wife Concha, swaggers impudently among the American conscientious objector Light and his wife Myra; the American engineer, the miner Chivers, Concha, the peons—there stands out in high relief the girl Bessie, living her drama to the point where she chooses to follow Tito as his woman.

The two excellent stage settings were designed by Andrew Dasburg, Guthrie McClintic is the producer of this play at the Comedy Theatre.

DIVERTS BEAST'S ATTENTION

Animal Trainer Seriously Injured but Saves Children

Macon, Ga., Jan. 12.—Steve Batty, animal trainer, was seriously injured in a successful fight to save small children from a wild leopard.

The beast escaped from its cage into an adjoining cage, where a paper partition stood between it and a group of children.

Realizing the danger, Batty jumped into the cage to distract the big cat's attention. The leopard leaped on him, lashing and biting. Attendants shot the leopard.

NOW THE TENT HAT

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 12.—The tent hat was put on the style market here today. Here is its description by Carl Kapka, secretary of a tent and awning manufacturers association:

The hair must be done into a compact little mound in the top of the head.

In the mound place a "tent pole" one foot long. Over it all stretch one foot of square canvass, using the ears as "tent pegs". A ribbon will furnish decoration.

Argus Wagoner, Orange township farmer, won first prize in the class for ten ears of yellow corn in section three, at the Indiana corn show held this week at Purdue university in connection with the annual farmers' short course.

The state is divided into sections composed of a number of counties and the sectional winners then compete for the state prize. Robert Stewart of Hope, Bartholomew county, took the championship in this class when the sectional winners showed against each other.

Chicago "Sheiks" Are Having Their Troubles

Chicago, Jan. 12.—"Sheiks" of Chicago were having troubles all their own today as the result of the "revenge" of Pretty Thelma Reed.

Thelma, soda jerker in one of the most popular "cake eater" drug stores here, dosed one "sheik's" soda with a lusty dash of Easter oil.

Thelma's revenge was the result of disillusionment when she married Joe Gates in Indianapolis. Thelma declared that Joe "oiled" his hair, carried a book with a long list of girls names and addresses and worst of all "he suggested that I get a job on our wedding night."

So Thelma ran away and came to Chicago where she started out to get revenge. Last night detectives appeared at the drug store and took Thelma into custody. The girl though the police had learned of her Easter oil antics and told the whole story.

The police however, had received a telegram from Thelma's sister Tipton, Ind., asking that she be held until her arrival there.

One Chicago Woman Dead And Another Probably Blinded For Life

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Mrs. F. A. Baumann was dead and Mrs. Roy Harkermeier was probably blinded for life as the result of heroic unsuccessful attempts to rescue their babies from fires.

Mrs. Baumann was trapped in her apartment when a furnace exploded in the basement. Firemen found her clutching her baby boy to her breast. Both died later.

Mrs. Harkermeier left her baby Donald, aged 3 in her apartment and went to the grocery. When she came back the building was in flames. Despite efforts of the firemen she rushed into the building. Firemen found them clutched in each others arms. The baby was dead.

ESCAPE WITH SECURITIES

Thieves' Loot Home Of Wealthy Farmer At South Bend

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 12.—Authorities today had no clues to the identity of the robbers who escaped with $13,250 in securities after rifling the home of James I. Frame, 72 wealthy farmer here.

Frame who lived alone on the outskirts of the city, was known as a recluse. He left his home for a few hours and returning found it had been ransacked and his strongbox taken. Frame declared papers in the box included $11,000 in promissory notes; $2,000 in stock certificates and $250 in liberty bonds.

Police believe the robbers were after $25,000 Frame was said to have from the sale of a farm recently.

WEEKLY STORE NEWS

From ALLEN'S

Business for 1923 has started off with a rush and we are confident that a year of prosperity is in store for all who put forth their best efforts.

Did you ever buy an unknown brand of goods at a supposed to be bargain price and find that you had been stung? It is our policy to buy the best goods to be had. Our lines are standard and we sell at a standard price. We do not try to make our customers believe that we are selling them a fancy article for the price of a common grade of the same article.

Take canned peaches for example, we have peaches for 20c, 25c, 30c and 35c per can and all good value for the price but we do not try and make you believe that our 20c grade is of 30c quality.

We have a splendid line of prunes. The markets have advanced considerably since our stock was bought and we are selling larger sizes at our present prices than we would be able to if bought at today's market.

You will always find a splendid display of fruits and vegetables at our store and sold at fair and honest prices.

Loyalty Flour is proving to be the best flour that we have ever sold. For a flour that was never heard of in Rush county until about 30 days ago the business we have already established is remarkable. Single bags sell for $1.15. We will quote barrel prices on request.

An Unusual Gift For The President of United States

PRESENTS HARDING WITH PART OF TRUE CROSS AND ORDER

The Rt. Rev. Paneleimon, Archbishop of Meapolis, Palestine, personal legatee of beatitude, damian, orthodox patriarch of the Holy City of Jerusalem and all Palestine, who presented President Harding with a piece of the cross upon which it is believed Jesus Christ was crucified. At the same time the President was made a Knight of the Order of the Holy Sepulcher, and was given insignia of the order, a gold crown at its head suspended on a scarlet cord. Within the cross was the splinter of wood, said to have been taken from the true cross. The insignia was set with four diamonds.

AMUSEMENTS

At Mystic Saturday

Arrow Film Corporation announces the presentation at the Mystic theatre on Saturday of the Ben Wilson production, "Desert's Crucible," starring the celebrated cowboy star, Jack Hoxie, and including in the cast Claude Payton and Andree Tourneur. The picture was directed by Roy Clements, who also wrote the story.

In his screen career Jack Hoxie has played many parts, all very much alike in general characteristics, but in this picture he offers his numerous admirers a novel impersonation—he plays two parts, one that of a young fellow who is fed up on society life, and is sent to a ranch to be made over into a man; that of his own brother, an Indiana half-breed with personal traits and characteristics, directly the opposite of the other character.

It is a strong and exciting story, and Jack Hoxie very skillfully brings out the distinctive peculiarities of each character. There is an apparent resemblance physically between the two characters, but there it ends.

Last Showing Today

Had not Denman Thompson, in 1875 then a variety artist, been attacked by rheumatism, "The Old Homestead" might never have been written. This classic, which will be seen on the screen as a Paramount picture at the Princess for the last time today was originally a short sketch called "Joshua Whitecomb." Mr. Thompson, confined to his room by the malady, was unable to do his song and dance number, and he wrote the sketch "Uncle Josh" for future use. Later it was expanded into a three-act play and finally rewritten and rechristened "The Old Homestead." It was first produced in its final stage form in 1886 at the Boston Theatre. Mr. Thompson played Uncle Josh for thirty-two consecutive years.

Theodore Roberts interprets Mr. Thompson's famous version. George Fawcett plays Eph Holbrook and T. Roy Barnes is the tramp, Happy Jack. Fritz Ridgway plays the role of Ann and Harrison Ford is seen as Reuben. James Mason, Ethel Wales, Kathleen O'Connor and others appear in the cast, in important parts.

The settings especially that showing the old homestead and the village of Ganzey are really remarkable. Forty houses comprised the village setting which are ultimately destroyed by a storm said to be one of the most realistic ever pictured. James Cruze was the director.

LARGE CROWDS EACH NIGHT

The revival meeting in progress at the Wesley M. E. church is attracting larger crowds each night, and much interest is being shown. The meetings will probably continue next week.

Hawkins Succeeded By Bickel At Head Of U. P.

New York, Jan. 12.—William W. Hawkins, president of the United Press Associations for the past three years has resigned that position and is succeeded by Karl A. Bickel, it was announced today.

Hawkins, who has been connected with the United Press since its foundation in 1907 leaves that organization to become executive manager of the business department of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, comprising evening dailies in twenty five American cities. Under his direction as president the United Press broadened and strengthened its connections to the point of practically doubling the scope of its business.

Karl A. Bickel, elected as successor to Hawkins, joined the United Press first in 1907 on the Pacific coast and served as bureau manager in Portland, Ore. Later, he became a member of the general business staff, and for several years was business manager. Two years ago Bickel was appointed general news

Didn't Know His Brother

"My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctors and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which he said described his case perfectly. The first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." OLD RECORDS ARE BROKEN

More Than 15 Billion People Used Electric Lines During the Year—Outlook is Distinctly Hopeful

New York, Jan. 12.—Electric railway conditions throughout the United States improved during 1922, according to the annual report of C. D. Emmons, president of the American Electric Railway Association made public here today.

"Statistics based on detailed reports from companies representing one-third of the country's mileage show that, despite the growing use of pleasure automobile and keen bus competition in many sections, more persons rode on electric railways during 1922 than in 1921", Emmons said. "The total number of passengers carried exceeded fifteen billion. Up to May there was a falling off in revenue passengers over

GOLD AND GEMS FOUND

ANTIQUITY TREASURE OF $40,000,000 FOUND IN TOMB OF EGYPTIAN KING AT ANCIENT THEBES

Treasures valued at $40,000,000 have been unearthed in the tomb of Tutankhamen near Luxor—site of ancient Thebes—by Howard Carter, American Archaeologist and explorer, and the Earl of Carnarvon, who have been excavating there for seven years. Photo shows Lady Allenby, wife of the great British General, leaving the tomb after looking at the discovery. Huge statues of pure gold and the gem studded throne of Tutankhamen—who was a King of the 18th Egyptian dynasty, who reigned around 1350—are among the valuable relics found in the tomb. The find is also of great artistic and archaeological value.

last year but since that time generally there has been a steady increase.

"Net operating revenues increased 7.4 percent in spite of the fact that the gross revenue was off 2 1/2 percent, owing to general fare reductions per passenger from 7.49 to 7.33 cents. A decrease of 5.9 percent in operating expenses served in great measure to offset the fare reduction loss.

"Receivership records for the year are encouraging. Detailed reports from January 1 to December 15, 1922 show that properties with a total mileage of only 517 and total outstanding securities of $30,986,000 went into receivership, while roads with 458 miles of track and total securities of $88,729,350 came out.

"The general tendency among regulatory bodies is to keep fares at a level proportionate to increased material and labor costs. The average fare today in a group of 275 representative cities is approximately 43 percent higher than it was at the outbreak of the war, while the average wage increase is 91 percent and the average material cost increase is 102 percent.

"Fares range from 5 to 10 cents in 607 leading cities. The 7 cent fare is operative in the largest single number of cities, 184; the 10 cent fare comes second in 144, and the 6 cent fare third in 102. Other cities of this group are paying—8 cents, 79; 8 cent fare, 1 cent transfer charge, 26; 5 cents, 20; 5 cents city one, 5 cents outside, 14; 5 cents fare reduced from higher fare, 13; 6 cent city zone, 7; 5 cent fare, additional charge for transfers, 7; two 5 cents zones, 2, 6 cent zones, 1; 6 cent city zone, 1 cent charge for rides outside, 1; 6 cent zones, average length two miles, 1.

"The bus situation particularly is clarifying. Whereas a year ago bus competition had reached such a point that electric railways in several cities were compelled to suspend operations temporarily, today managements, regulatory bodies and the public gradually are co-operating more generally in an effort to find the proper place for the bus. At its last convention, the American Electric Railway Association declared that it was the duty of each electric railway company to supply all local transportation in its community and that it should install buses where necessary and be protected from destructive competition by other agencies. Indications point widespread recognition of the soundness of this policy.

"Summarized, the outlook is distinctly hopeful."

MUST SEND FUND DIRECT

President of W. R. C. Asks Chapters To Report Hospital Gifts

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Elizabeth D. Smith, president of the Woman's Relief Corps of Indiana has sent out a call to the 112 chapters in the state, urging that all contributions of members of the organization to the building fund of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, be sent direct to Mrs. Susan Higgins, 256 North Rural street, Indianapolis, state treasurer of the relief corps. The relief corps with approximately 10,000 members in Indiana, will raise a memorial fund for the Riley Hospital and in recognition of their efforts the name of the organization will be forever perpetuated by a memorial within the completed institution which is now under construction here. The Riley Hospital will be a $2,000,000 institution as a memorial to the famous Hoosier poet and for the care and treatment of sick and crippled Indiana children.

PRINCESS TO SEEK DIVORCE

ROYAL TRIANGLE STARTLES EUROPE

A royal divorce, according to latest reports, is imminent and those whom it will concern are Crown Prince Carol of Roumania and his wife, formerly Princess Helen of Greece. The Princess, it is said, is making preparations to file an action in Paris alleging desertion and misconduct by her husband, who has returned to Mme. Jeanne Lambrino, his morganatic wife. Princess Helen is believed to have returned to her home in Athens with her five months old child, and it is thought that as soon as she is divorced she will wed a wealthy Greek banker, who has been much in love with her for some time, it is alleged. Thus both will follow the dictates of their hearts, and throw their titles to the wind. Carol will lose his throne while the Princess will forfeit her title. Photo shows Crown Prince Carol with his wife, wearing the picturesque peasant garb of Roumania which is so becoming to her.

KELLOGG'S BRAN gives permanent relief

because it is ALL BRAN!

With the most dangerous diseases close on the trail of sufferers from constipation, there's no time to waste on foods with a low bran content! The one answer to constipation is BRAN that is ALL BRAN! That's why you should eat Kellogg's—and eat it regularly; at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases! KELLOGG'S BRAN IS SCIENTIFICALLY PREPARED TO RELIEVE SUFFERING HUMANITY AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Don't delay a minute! Get started on Kellogg's Bran to-day and your health will steadily improve and bowel conditions return to normal, no matter how long you have suffered with constipation, mild or chronic.

Remember that Kellogg's Bran is not an artificial laxative, but nature's own bulk food that acts as sweeper, cleanser and purifier. Its work for health is wonderful! Besides, bran contains the most valuable mineral salts and other life-sustaining elements—it is a blood maker and bone and tissue-builder!

Kellogg's Bran, being cooked and krumbled, is delicious eaten as a cereal, or sprinkled on hot or cold cereals. Another happy way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with your favorite hot cereal. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person, cooking the cereal as usual.

You can make the most delightful muffins, raisin bread, pancakes, macaroons, etc., with Kellogg's Bran—and it's fine in gravies, soups and purees.

The big thing is to get started on Kellogg's Bran quickly—for the sake of the health of your entire family—AND SERVE IT REGULARLY! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant!

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

TREE PLANTING ON ROAD-SIDE URGED

State Forester Starts Drive To Have
70,000 Miles Of Highways
Lined With Trees

HAS A TWO-FOLD PURPOSE

Would Beautify The Roads And Aid
In Reforestation—Eleven Million
Could Be Planted

Indianapolis Ind. Jan. 12—A drive for 70,000 miles of tree-lined highways in Indiana was started today by Charles C. Deam, state forester in the conservation department.

Deam urged farmers and other persons living along public highways to plant trees along all road-sides both as a means of reforestation and of beautifying the roads. Two million dollars worth of log wood would be produced in fifty years by this means and none of the roadside land would be wasted, Deam said.

Governor McCray and state highway officials favor trees along state roads and frequently the commission has directed its engineers to curve roads slightly where it would not cause interference with traffic.

Eleven million trees could be planted along Indiana roads, Deam said. This is equivalent to 100,000 acres of forest timber. These trees in fifty years would produce about 2,500,000 feet of lumber which at present figures would be worth $2,000,000 on the stump.

Deam said he favors walnut or hickory trees because of the quality of the wood and because they would yield a profit in nuts. Aside from the $2,000,000 worth of standing trees, there would be immense value in the branches and limbs which could be used for fence posts and put to other uses also.

The state forester suggests that because telephone wires follow one side of the road, it is better to plant trees on the side where they will not interfere with telephonic communication.

He points out that trees should not be planted nearer than 200 to 300 feet of road intersection, and steam and electric line crossings for they must not obstruct distances. Highway officials suggest that care be exercised in planting near curves, and, insists that sight distances be unobstructed so that traffic overland be in no way menaced.

The annual consumption of nuts is rapidly increasing because people realize they are rich in vitamins. A walnut tree forty to fifty years old ordinarily bears a bushel or more of nuts, the market value this year of which is $1.50 to $2.00. Hickory nuts now sell for $3.00 to $4.00 a bushel.

These do not bear every year or they occasionally fail in a full crop, but in face of this if the 11,000,000 roadside nut trees would bear the equivalent of a full crop every three and one-half years, then the annual nut crop from them would be worth approximately $5,000,000, Deam says.

Walnut and hickory are favored of their deep root system enabling them to better withstand drought and the ravages of insect pests and scale diseases. They produce only a minimum of shade and not a sufficient abundance to damage nearby crops. In fact such species in addition to the valuable timber and nut crops produced, will afford considerable protection to adjacent crops from strong winds, it is pointed out by conservation officials.

Mr. Deam advises landowners to plant hickory and walnut trees in the early spring. He cites attention that many farmers who are looking to the future already have planted some trees along their fences, but contends that concerted action all over the state is the only way to get their timber again flourishing in Indiana.

KIWANIANS PLEDGE $4,200

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 13.—Members of the Richmond Kiwanis Club pledged $4,200 to the $150,000 fund being raised by the Kiwanis clubs of the state for the erection of one of the ward buildings of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, now under construction in Indianapolis. The ward building will be known as the Indiana District Kiwanis Building. The clubs already have raised more than $80,000 of the fund.

CHAPTER XII

Wherein All Is Made Clear

Overcome with pity, I endeavored to utter some futile words, which she at once put an end to by an appealing gesture.

"You can say nothing," she began. "I have made an awful mistake the worst a woman can make I think." "You love Dorothy; does Dorothy love you?"

My answer was an honest one.

"I have dared to hope so, despite the little opportunity she has given me to express my feelings. She has always held me back."

"Oh, Dorothy!"

Regret, sorrow, tenderness, all were audible in that cry.

"How I must have made her suffer! I have been a curse to those who loved me. But I am humbled now, and very rightly."

Gilbertine, pausing at the door she had unconsciously approached, remarked gravely:

"I am going out of your life. Before I do so, however, I should like to say a few words in palliation of my conduct. I have never known a mother. I early fell under my aunt's charge, sent away to school, where I was well enough treated, but never loved."

"Years passed. I was a woman, but neither my happiness nor my self confidence had kept pace with my growth. Romance was my life, and I had fallen into the dangerous habit of brooding over the pleasures and excitements which would have been mine had I been born beautiful and wealthy, when my aunt suddenly visited the school, saw me and at once took me away and placed me in the most fashionable school in New York City. From there I was launched, without any word of motherly counsel, into the gay society you know so well. I found the world at my feet. Mr. Sinclair visited me, took me to theatres and eventually proposed. My aunt was in ecstasies. I, who felt helpless before her will, was glad that the husband she had chosen for me was, at least, a gentleman. But he was not the man I had dwelt on in my dreams, and while I accepted him I cared so little for Mr. Sinclair himself that I forgot to ask if his many attentions were the result of any real feeling on his part. How I despise myself now for this miserable frivolity!

"All this time I knew that I was not my aunt's only niece; that Dorothy Camerton, of whom I knew little but her name, was as closely related to her as I was. When she found that I was to leave her she sent for Dorothy. I shall never forget my first glimpse of her dear face, I saw that my girl's friend had come and that, marriage or no marriage, I need never be solitary again."

"I do not think I made as favorable an impression on my cousin as she did on me."

"I loved her, but, from blindness of eye or an overwhelming egotism, I did not consider her beautiful. I never imagined for a moment that it was on her account you visited the house so often. I gave you all my heart and, what was worse, confided my folly to Dorothy."

"The explanations which I gave of the part I played in my aunt's death were true. I only omitted one detail, which you may consider a very important one. The fact which paralyzed my hand and voice when I saw her lift the drop of death to her lips was this: I had meant to die by this drop myself, in Dorothy's room, and with Dorothy's arms about me."

"Gilbertine," I prayed, "do not go, till I have said this. A young girl does not always know the demands of her own nature. The heart you have ignored is one in a thousand. Do not let it slip from you. God never gives a woman such a love twice."

"I know it," she murmured. Suddenly I caught one last word whispered from the threshold:

"Throw back the shutters and let in the light. Dorothy is coming. I am going now to call her."

An hour had passed, the hour of hours for me, for in it Dorothy and I came to understand each other. We were sitting hand in hand in this blessed little boudoir, when suddenly she turned her face toward me and gently remarked:

"This seems like selfishness on our part; but Gilbertine insisted."

"You may think I did wrong not to tell her of your affection for myself. I did do wrong; I see it now. She was really a stronger woman than I thought and we might all have been saved the horrors which have befallen us had I acted with more firmness at that time. When she heard you were to be Mr. Sinclair's best man, every feminine instinct within her rebelled and it was with difficulty she could prevent herself from breaking out into a loud No! in face of aunt and lover. From this moment on her state of mind grew desperate. In my little room at night she would bury her face in my lap and talk of death, till I moved in a constant atmosphere of dread. One night I found her out of her bed long after every one else had retired for the night. Next morning Mr. Beaton told a dream—I hope it was a dream—but it frightened me. Then came that moment when Mr. Sinclair displayed the amethyst box and explained how a drop from the little flask inside would kill a person. I felt the thrill which shot like lightning through her, and made up my mind she should never have the opportunity of touching that box. And that is why I stole into the library and took down the little box and hid it in my hair. I did not pause, to think that it was the flask and not the box she wanted. You know the rest."

Yes, I knew it. How she opened the box in her room and found it empty. How she flew to Gilbertine's room and, finding the door unlocked, looked in, and saw Miss Lane lying there asleep but no Gilbertine. How her alarm grew at this and how she had wandered over the house in the hope of coming upon Gilbertine in one of the down-stairs rooms. She turned back only to hear that awful scream go up as she was setting foot upon the spiral stair. She found it impossible to proceed any further, but clung to the stair-rail, half-alive and half-dead, till she was taken up to her aunt's room. When therefore she said, "You know the rest," I took her in my arms and gave her my first kiss. The coroner who had seen much of life and human nature, managed with much discretion the inquest he felt bound to hold Mrs. Lansing was found to have come to her death by a meddlesome interference with one of her niece's wedding trinkets. The verdict was duly accepted and the real heart of this tragedy closed for ever from every human eye. As we were leaving Newport, Sinclair stepped up to me. "I have reason to know," said he, "that Mrs. Lansing's bequests will be a surprise, not only to her nieces, but to the world at large. Let me advise you to announce your engagement before reaching New York."

I followed his advice and in a few days understood why it had been given. All the vast property owned by this woman had been left to Dorothy. Gilbertine had been cut off without a cent. We never knew Mrs. Lansing's reason for this act. The discrimination she showed in her will put Gilbertine in a very unfortunate position. At least, it would have done so, if Sinclair, with an adroitness worthy of his love, had not proved to her that a break at this time in their supposed relations would reflect most seriously upon his disinterestedness and thus secured for himself opportunities for urging his suit which ended, as such opportunities often do, in a renewal of their engagement. But this time mutual love was its basis. But how the magic was wrought, I did not know till later, and then it was told me by Gilbertine herself. I had been married for some months and she for some weeks, when one evening chance drew us together. Instantly she turned upon me and said:

"You once gave me some very good advice, Mr. Worthington, but it was not that which led me to realize Mr. Sinclair's affection. It was a short conversation which passed between us on the day my aunt's will was read. Do you remember my turning to speak to him the moment after that word all fell from the lawyer's lips?"

"It was to ask him one question,—a question to which misfortune only could have given so much weight. Had he known that I had no place in her will? His answer was very simple; a single word—'always'. But after that, do I need to say why I am a wife? why I am his wife?"

RUSH COUNTY MAN ELECTED DIRECTOR

Charles V. Spencer of Richland Township Named Officer of Producers Association

RECOGNITION FOR COUNTY

Rush County Farm Bureau Incorporated and Takes Out Membership—Local Farmers Attend

Charles V. Spencer of Richland township was elected a director of the Producers' Commission association, which held its first annual meeting Thursday in Indianapolis, and the Rush county farmer was elected by a majority of ten thousand votes.

The election of Mr. Spencer not only recognizes his ability as a man, but the standard of Rush county as a live stock producing unit. The other director elected was Oscar Swank of Montgomery county, who received a majority of 2,000 votes.

This county was represented by 15 or 20 farmers at the annual meeting, and Fred Bell, representative of the Rush County Farm Bureau, cast his 1025 votes in the election, as he represented that number of members in this county.

The matter of incorporating the county farm bureau has been completed and county membership taken in the producers' association, and entitles them to receive their share of patronage dividends in proportion to the amount of business sent to the association.

The pastboard hogs, used last year at the Indiana Rotary Club conference, advertising Rush county as the banner hog raising county in the United States, were also used by the Rush county farmers yesterday and were strung around the convention hall. Illinois farmers, who supported Rush county, also wore the cardboard pigs.

At the meeting which was held to review the work of the association since its organization last May, it was brought out that the association which is an outgrowth of the Farm Bureau Federation work has sold more than $1,000,000 worth of live stock each month since its formation. It is composed of live stock raisers in Indiana and Illinois who dispose of their stock through the Indianapolis market.

The principal address of the meeting Thursday was made by John G. Brown of Monon, president of the National Producers' association of which the state organization is a branch. Talks were made also by

U. S. TROOPS TO LEAVE IN A WEEK

Next Friday Fixed as Day When Stars and Stripes Will Come Down in Coblenz

ESSEN REMAINS QUIET TODAY

French Withdraw From Heart of The City—Germans Not to Meet Violence With Violence

Coblenz, Jan. 12—Next Friday has been set as the date when the Stars and Stripes come down from Coblenz flagpole, and the American army of occupation leaves to embark for Savannah. The United States troops will entrain for Antwerp, and sail on the transport St. Mihiel January 21.

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Essen, Jan. 12—Essen was quiet today.

During the night the French withdrew from the heart of the city and when citizens appeared about their duties this morning they encountered only an occasional blue-coated sentry pacing the downtown streets.

The bulk of the invading forces had been withdrawn to the suburbs. The absence of tanks, armored cars and machine guns was remarked. German traffic police were in charge throughout the city.

Surprised at the absence of warlike demonstrations, citizens of Essen who had acted sullenly when the city first was seized were apparently engrossed in an effort to master their resentment. Stiff German smiles were exchanged as occasional groups of French officers appeared.

The French commanded the Kaiserhof hotel, evicting both permanent and transient guests and press correspondents who had made this their headquarters. The engineer control commission and a group of French officers moved in.

Uneasiness is expressed regarding what may transpire tomorrow which is pay day, which the miners have been accustomed to come in from the coal fields and drink rather

DAUGHERTY RESTS AT FRENCH LICK

Attorney General Refuses To Answer Questions Regarding His Exonerations By Congress

THERE MERELY FOR A REST

French Lick, Ind., Jan. 2.—Attorney General Daugherty resting here at Tom Taggart's famous watering place after his exoneration of impeachment charges by congress, refused to comment today on anything.

"The attorney general is suffering from a bad cold and cannot talk now," A. O. Smith, one of Daugherty's assistants told newspapermen. Daugherty refused to discuss his exoneration, the Ku Klux Klan delayed prosecution of coal miners and operators on conspiracy charges or any other subject when Smith transmitted the question of reporters to him.

Smith said Daugherty came here unaccompanied except by his brother, M. S. Daugherty of Washington Courthouse, O.

PREACHES ON THE THREE PRODIGALS

E. Richard Edwards Applies Story of Lost Sheep, Lost Coin And Lost Son To Life Today

SOUL-SEARCHING SERMON

Says Many Men And Women Do Not Intend To Get Lost, But That They Are Enticed Away

Another large audience assembled at the Main Street Christian church Thursday evening to hear one of the ablest sermons yet delivered by the Rev. E. Richards, on "Three Parables About Three Prodigals" in which he told the story of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the lost son.

These Parables were given by Christ in answer to his critics who found fault with him because he associated with publicans and sinners and to demonstrate the divine interest in things that are lost," the Rev. Mr. Edwards said. The sheep was lost not deliberately or intentionally but because it "nibbled" itself away from the safety and shelter of the fold, enticed by the succulent tufts of grass it was seeking.

So with many men and women. They do not intend to be bad or get lost from the holy things but are led away by the enticing pleasures of life until they are lost to Christ and the church.

It was regarded as a soul searching sermon that ought to have been heard by every professed Christian in Rushville. Yet not a single unkind or harsh word was spoken.

Tonight he speaks on "The Trophy Rooms of the Soul." To this service the young people of the city are especially invited.

At the Sunday morning service he will speak on "Meeting God on the Mount," at 230 a special meeting for men and boys on the theme "How the

E. RICHARD EDWARDS

Tramp Came back," and at 7:00 o'clock on "God's Radio Equipment: Listening In." At all of these services there will be special music with Cole's orchestra Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Derby Green sang a beautiful solo at the service last evening. Mrs. Neff Ashworth will sing at the service tonight.

SIX LEADERS WILL SPEAK

Prominent Republicans To Address Republican Editors Of State

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Six Republican leaders will speak at the annual banquet of the Republican Editorial association here, Jan. 26, Fredrick E. Shortemeier, secretary of the Republican State committee, announced today.

The principal address will be made by George Lockwood, secretary of the Republican National committee.

Talks also will be made by Governor McCray, Albert J. Beveridge, Senators New and Watson and Miss Etelka Rockenbach.

TODAY MARKS END OF SHORT COURSE

Annual Meetings Of Four Dairy Cattle Breed Associations Concludes 29th Session

ATTENDANCE EXCEEDS 1,000

Wind Mill Farm Power Plant For Electric Lights Is Discussed By Prof. Aitkenhead

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 12.—Annual meetings of the four dairy cattle breed associations, and a series of practical demonstrations on various farm practices, concluded the twenty-ninth annual farmers' short course at Purdue University here this afternoon. The attendance for the week will far exceed the 1,000 mark, but definite tabulated figures will not be available for a day or two. The dairy organizations holding their meetings were Holstein-Friesian, Ayrshire, Jersey and Guernsey breeders' associations.

The morning program opened with classes in corn and livestock judging for the corn growers and stockmen. The dairyman heard a discussion of the value of milk for hogs and poultry by C. M. Vostal and Prof. A. G. Phillips from the animal husbandry and poultry staffs, respectively. Prof. William Aitkenhead described the making of electricity by a generator run from a windmill, while Prof. S. D. Connor spoke on fertilizers to use for potatoes. F. C. Gaylord discussed potato seed stocks and Mrs. Charles A. Kintner, of Corydon, discussed handling farm flocks. Dr. B. H. Hibbard, of the University of Wisconsin, spoke on "Future Prices of Farm Products." H. W. Fitting gave a demonstration of grading and packing eggs for shipment. T. G. Riley spoke on summer care of chicks.

Several members of the home economics staff spoke on menu making in the home; Prof. Mary L. Matthews discussed arrangements of furniture in the home; Miss Nelle Flamingham of the Purdue staff, gave a millinery demonstration. Such as given at farm meetings over the state.

"If the potato growers give proper attention to the cultivation and fertilization of the soil and use good seed, the average yield per acre of potatoes can be profitably doubled," said S. D. Connor, before the horticultural section. "There is a home market that will easily absorb four or five million bushels more of potatoes in Indiana."

The greater the supply of fertilizer or manure in the soil the greater the yield with the same rainfall.

SHOOTS SON-IN-LAW AT CHURCH REVIVAL

Samuel Walks Kills Fred Hasse at Mt. Zion, Morgan County, as Congregation Sings

IN SELF DEFENSE, HE SAYS

(By United Press)
Martinsville, Ind., Jan. 12.—While the congregation was singing a hymn, Samuel Walk shot and killed Fred Hasse, his son-in-law at the Mt. Zion church revival in Morgan county last night.

Three officers arrested Walk and brought him to jail where Walk told Sheriff Lefe Scott, he shot in self defense.

"Fred came up to me in the church," Walk said. "I understand you have been looking for me," he said.

"This is no place to start trouble," I told him. "Fred was carrying a lantern. He sat it down, drew a knife and came at me. I started running and tried to get away, but Fred gained on me."

Then, Walk said he pulled a .32 calibre revolver and fired. One shot struck Hasse below the breast bone the other in the side. He died.

Eighteen months ago Hasse married Walk's daughter. They separated and the trouble is said to have started then.

FAVORS PRESENT STRENGTH

House Appropriations Committee Rejects Preparedness Pleas

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 12.—Rejecting preparedness pleas from army heads and others who urged an increased army, the powerful house appropriations committee, in reporting the annual army appropriation bill to the house today, recommended continuance of the army at its present strength of 125,000 men and 12,000 officers.

PLOT TO THROW RED ARMY ACROSS RHINE

International Communist Intrigue Charge Following French Round-up of Radicals

PLANNED TO INCITE REVOLT

Paris, Jan. 12.—An international communist plot which was to bring the bolshevik army across Germany to the banks of the Rhine and thence into France was charged today against Deputy Cachin, and communist leaders arrested in Thursday's round-up.

The minister of justice filed a request that the chamber of deputies raise Cachin parliamentary immunity so that he might be arrested and prosecuted on this charge. Cachin, Mornouseau, Semard and Treint are to be accused of fostering a revolution in Germany, in which the Russian army was to intervene. It is charged that Treint stated that if the Red army reached the Rhine French communists would open the gates of their towns to the bolsheviks.

The police claim to have uncovered a plot of international communists, including those of Russia, France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Holland and Sweden to stir up revolutionary troubles in Germany and Poland, basing their action on the Ruhr occupations. This would give Russia's Red army an excuse to march through Poland into Germany and intervene, aiding the proletariat revolution.

SUPER GOVERNMENT EXPOSED IN PROBE

Gave Orders To Authorities And Punished Persons Without Trial In Morehouse Parish

STATE SHIFTS ITS COURSE

By E. A. SHELLNUT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 12.—A super-government, which gave orders to the constituted authorities and punished persons without trial, is being revealed in Morehouse Parish.

Shifting its line of evidence taking the state, in the open hearing in the brutal murders of Wyatt Daniel and Thomas Richards continued today showing the scope of the invisible government which has ruled this community for more than a year. "Establishment of the fact that a super-government has been uncovered in Morehouse parish" will be the aim today, Attorney General Cocco said.

Prominent citizens were called to testify today of crimes and outrages which occurred prior to the savage murders in an effort to connect the super-government with the reign of terror culminating two deaths.

FLUE BURNS OUT

A flue burning at the residence of Edwin Meggie, 327 West Third street called the fire department this morning shortly before ten o'clock. The chemical truck made the run, but their services were not needed. In telephoning the alarm, it was stated that only the flue was burning out, and the truck was sent to the scene, where the firemen remained until all danger had passed.

BILL FOR COUNTY TO BE SCHOOL UNIT

Measure Recommended by Governor McCray Is Introduced in State Legislature

PROVIDES FOR BOARD OF FIVE

Censorship of Movies and Lifting of Ban on German in Schools Other Bills Presented

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Censorship of movies, lifting the ban on teaching of German language in schools and establishment of a county as a unit of school administration, were provided in bills presented to the Indiana legislature today.

The censorship bill would create a board of censors and empower it to bar films of obscene nature, immoral, indecent, or sacrilegious, and all those picturing bull or prize fights. The board would consist of three members, the chairman who would receive an annual salary of $3,000 and the others $2,500. It was introduced by Senator Steels of Knox and was identically the same as the one defeated by the 1921 legislature.

Senator William Swain of Pendleton presented the measure to make the county instead of the township a unit in school administration. The bill was recommended by Governor McCray. It would place schools in charge of a non-partisan board of education to be composed of five persons elected by popular vote.

The German language bill was introduced by Representative Eickhoff of Fort Wayne. It would repeal the law enacted during the war which barred the teaching of the language in Indiana schools.

Other bills introduced included: Two bills favoring abolishment of the office of county highway superintendent.

Thirty days imprisonment for first offense for bootleggers (duplicate of one introduced in senate).

Establishing a closed season for all fishing from April 30 to June 16. Forbidding advertisements of marriage parlors.

Providing that street car companies operating under public service commission must pave between tracks and two feet on each side (duplicate of bill pending in senate).

Abolishing the office of the game warden.

Abolishing the office of the state oil inspector.

FARM LEASE INVOLVED IN TRIAL HEARD TODAY

Case Of Jesse H. Wilson Against Cora J. Wilson And Norman Cain In Circuit Court

CASE FROM MARION COUNTY

The attention of the circuit court today was being taken up with the case of Jesse H. Wilson and Cora J. Wilson against Norman Cain, and many witnesses were being heard. The complaint was to reform a lease and involved an agreement existing between the tenant and owner of a farm.

The case was expected to be finished today and the evidence was being heard without the intervention of the jury. The regular panel of the jury has been ordered Monday; when the state case against Fred and Earl Clevenger is scheduled for trial, in which they are charged with petit larceny.

A case filed originally in the Marion circuit court will be sent here for trial, according to a dispatch from Shelbyville. The case of William H. Rieber, et al., against the Crescent Finance Company, et al., is the title of the complaint, and the action is for injunction. The defendants the change of venue from Marion county, and it was sent to Shelby county, and the plaintiffs secured the second change, being sent here.

ACCEPTS CALL TO RUSHVILLE CHURCH

Gibson Wilson Of Bremen, O., Will Take Up Pastorate Here The First Sunday In February

IN MINISTRY FOR 19 YEARS

The Rev. Gibson Wilson of Bremen, Ohio, has accepted the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here, it was announced today, and will begin his ministry in Rushville the first Sunday in February.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, who has been pastor of the Bremen church for the past eight years, is an Indiana man and a graduate of Wabash college at Crawfordsville, Ind. He received his theological work at Princeton university. The new pastor has been in the ministry nineteen years and has held three pastorates.

Mrs. Wilson is also a native of Indiana, having resided at Crawfordsville before her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have three children, two daughters and one son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and family will move here during the week of January 22 and will take up their residence in the church manse at 122 West Fifth street.

The church has been without a pastor since last fall when the Rev. Walter L. Kunkel resigned.

100 WAYS
To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Wanted to Sell a Store—

I WOULD describe it to the greatest number of potential buyers possible to reach. And I would do it with one sure shot.

I would let a Republican Want Ad take my message to 11,000 persons. To call on these people myself would take me weeks and weeks, even if I spent only five minutes with each.

My Want Ad would reach these people over night, and at one low cost.

Diogenes Out of a Job

DIOGENES, the Greek cynic and philosopher, was a successful advertiser. He lived in a barrel to advertise himself. At high noon he was wont to light his lantern and stroll about the streets of Athens, "In search," he said, "of an honest man." In this way he advertised one of the prevailing failings of the classic Greeks. For among the ancients, the most successful merchant was the biggest skinflint. The cleverest buyer was the loudest haggler.

There's no room for a cynic in modern advertising. Advertising, today, calls attention to the open-faced honesty of business. It has standardized almost every article you can buy. You know what to expect and what to pay. You don't have to dicker, bargain and haggle to know that you are getting as good as you give.

That is why it pays to read advertisements and buy advertised goods. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its faithful performance, its lasting usefulness or its definite quality.

If you value constant satisfaction—if you want to get your full money's worth every time—read the advertisements.

To take advantage of an advertisement
is to get full value.

but not only that, the greater the yield of potatoes, the better the quality," said Mr. Commer, in advocating the use of more manure and fertilizers.

In discussing the use of milk for chickens, Prof. Phillips said that "skimmed milk and buttermilk as sources of animal protein for chickens showed themselves as having feeding value from $1.00 to $5.00 per 100 pounds when measured in egg production. Experiments extending over 11 years, comparing milk with meat scraps, tankage, fishmeal, cottonseed meal, and no animal protein established without doubt the wonderful value and the real need of feeding milk by-products to laying hens. They should be allowed all they want to consume and no water offered except in hot weather. When milk is used as the sole drink, no other animal protein is necessary. For baby chicks, its value cannot be estimated as the mortality is kept down and pullets are grown with a splendid finish."

Mr. Vestal gave the results of many experiments in feeding of skimmed milk or buttermilk to hogs. Mrs. Kinter, speaking before the poultry section, urged the keeping of 200 or 300 hens on the farm, rather than 50 to 60 to 100 as is done many places. This number may be taken care of with the same labor at 100 and return more profit, she said.

Prof. Aitkenhead, discussing farm lighting, described the wind mill farm power plant which was being tested at Purdue. The generator is on top of the windmill and stores up electric current when the wind turns the wheel. This current is stored in batteries and used for farm lighting and power.

"The records show several successive quit days in September when the electricity stores in the batteries had to be conserved, but during most of the months, more power was supplied than was necessary for lighting and small power requirements," he said. "This application of wind power is still young but the indications are that the windmill has taken on a new job, which it can successfully hold down."

Women of Three Generations

The daughter, mother, and grandmother have all proved from personal experience the remarkable strengthening and tonic properties of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming the ills of women. It was first made from roots and herbs in 1873 by Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for her neighbors and friends. Its fame has spread from shore to shore until it is now looked upon by women everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills. It has been proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, which is a marvelous record for any remedy to hold.

Opposed to Gasoline Tax

Indicating the organization of determined opposition to the proposed tax on gasoline, owners of motor trucks all over Indiana who do not operate their vehicles for hire, have joined with other automobile organizations representing automobile
dealers, and the Hoosier State Automobile association, representing all owners, in a protest against such a law in Indiana.

The attitude of the owners of commercial vehicles not for hire declared at a recent conference for the retention of all present taxes
and fees accruing to the State Highway Commission, plus graduated increases in motor vehicle license
fees sufficient to permit the Highway Commission to match, dollar-for-dollar, the federal aid money now available, amounting to more than $11,500,000 by the end of 1925.

In a statement issued it was pointed out that the commercial car
user who hauls for hire is only a very small part of the total number of trucks and that the vast majority of these commercial cars are used by large tax paying farmers and business houses incidental to their regular business. "We wish to make it plain that in our opinion this gasoline tax advocated by the 'haul for hire' people is not desired by the vast majority of other commercial car users. Why should not these for-hire trucks be under the supervision of the Public Service Commission and be required to pay commensurately with other common carriers, in view of the fact that such trucks use roads provided for them

by the public without cost other than
the same as any other motor vehicle?" The statement says:

This conference, in common with the majority of automobile owners
in the state, could not see why the generosity of the motoring public
and its desire to support the good roads program should be imposed on
to saddle other people's taxes on the automobile. Advocates of the "gas" tax say that a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and doubling of
the motor license fees will be necessary for Indiana to obtain its share of the federal aid money.

The statement issued following the conference calls attention to the fact, which is not generally known,
that Indiana is one of the few states
where a personal property tax is collected on automobiles. While in many states the motor license fee
is much higher than Indiana, the automobile owners are relieved of any property tax on their machines.

It is advocated that this tax be retained in Indiana, increase slightly by graduated scale the license fees
and retain the funds from inheritance taxation, and the small state
tax levy, as advocated by the state and local trade associations and by
the Hoosier State Automobile Association, and ample funds will be available for all highway purposes—
and this, too, without a cent of increase in cost of collection over the present method. It must be remem-
collected an enormous tax of 5% on automobiles, accessories and repair
parts, for the federal government,
while perfumes, pianos, phonographs
and the like are now relieved of the Federal excise tax. Good roads benefit every one and general property in Indiana should continue to bear
some part of the cost.

British Savings Plan

The British treasury has a savings plan very similar to the one in this country. For each 16 shillings invested, the buyer gets 20 shillings,
or a pound, in five years. In the United States for each $82 invested,
the buyer gets $100 in five years.
With the British certificate the gain
is 25 percent, and with the American Treasury Savings Certificate the gain is about 22 percent. It is stated that up to November 11, 1922, the British government had sold over 601,000,000 pounds of its certificates. In the United States the outstanding savings certificates, and the War Savings Certificates that were their immediate predecessors,
reach a total of only $700,000,000.
Assuming the British population to
be half of our own, the figures show that the average British citizen has invested more than eight times as much in his government's savings
securities than has the average American citizen. What is the matter with us? Are we to be outdone
in thrift by the English?

SPLENDID SYSTEM USED

Tonight Butler Plays Purdue And
Omars And Wabash Clash At
Indianapolis Saturday

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—No game has ever won the place in the center of the athletic stage in Indiana equal to basketball.

It has been estimated that there are from 400 to 600 high school basketball games in the state each week. There are at least 400 independent teams in action in various cities and every college in Indiana that attempts anything in athletics has a basketball team.

The class of basketball played in Indiana colleges appears to grow better each year. Butler's victories over Wisconsin, Illinois and Chicago, the victory of Notre Dame over Iowa and Wabash's wonderful record made on its southern trip proved that the best basketball in the country is played in Indiana.

This is due to the splendid system used in conducting the annual high school tournaments. It might be mentioned that Indiana also leads in independent basketball.

The time for some of the most important games of the season seems to have been reached. Tonight Butler will play Purdue at Lafayette. On January 15, Purdue starts its Big Ten conference season, meeting Northwestern at Lafayette.

Possibly no game will attract a larger crowd than the one between Indianapolis Omars and Wabash at Tomlinson hall in Indianapolis January 13. The record made by these two wonderful basketball teams have been equalled by a few outfits in the game.

Indiana will play Illinois University at Urbana January 13. This game should prove a fast one and if Indiana can win, they will be real championship contenders. Notre Dame has one of the best basketball teams in its history. Notre Dame will play Armour at Notre Dame January 15. Butler will meet Rose Poly at Indianapolis January 15.

FINAL COUNT IS 36 TO 25

The Rushville Independents won an exciting contest from the Carthage Yankee Five team at Carthage last night, by the score of 36 to 25. The Yanks rolled up an 8 to 1 victory lead early in the game, but it was soon overcome. Rushville led at the end of the first half, 18 to 13.

Stewart, former high school star, and a member of the Em-Roes, bang up 22 markers for Rushville, and his floor work was brilliant. Hutchinson also performed well for the locals. M. Henley and Moore were the outstanding players for Carthage.

The line-up and summary.

3 Teams Loom in A. L. Fight

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York.—There is a general inclination in baseball circles to consider rather lightly the New York Yankees as factors in the next pennant race.

Why?—Because no strength has been added to the club.

A team that has won two successive pennants should not be in need of reinforcements, when it is a fairly young club.

The Yankees are not an old team and while the club has not secured any more new stars, the Huggins club ought to be stronger in 1923.

The pitchers can't be any worse next year and the chances are they will be improved.

Babe Ruth will be another person and when he is playing strict attention to his business, he will be a great help to the club.

Bob Meusel, too, after being shown that he is a person of small importance on the team might work up some pep, the lack of which has prevented him from becoming a wonderful ball player.

With the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox in the race with them, the Yankees will have no runaway. The St. Louis Browns are dangerous and the Cleveland Indians are building.

The Tigers and the White Sox look like the strongest contenders.

Ty Cobb has gathered himself a great team. Del Pratt at second base and Rip Collins added to his pitching staff will mean much.

Much depends, however, on the recovery of Harry Heilmann, the great batting outfielder, who broke his shoulder late last season.

It was reported recently that the bone was not knitting properly and that physicians had told Heilmann they were not sure that he would be able to swing a bat again.

Kid Gleason will have a sweet looking team of White Sox if Willie Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman from the Pacific Coast League, delivers according to expectations.

Kamm or no Kamm, the Sox look fine as they are, but a sensational hitting and fielding infielder may be the difference between the pennant and the contender.

Kid Gleason deserves to be rated

as one of the greatest managers in the game. After the housecleaning of 1920 he had nothing left but a second baseman, a catcher and a pitcher that later deserted him.

In two years time he collected a team that isn't far removed from the championship class and might get there next season.

In the same class with Gleason as a builder, is the Hon. Sir Patrick Moran, of the Cincinnati Reds.

Pat had a pennant winner and a world's champion outfit in 1919, but the glory went to the heads of the boys and Pat, being of one-hoss ideas, earned almost the whole team.

Of the 1919 champions only Darnest, Roush, Duncan, Wingo and Luque remain.

In three years, Moran has assembled a team that looks like the one that has to be beaten for the next National League pennant.

Despite the frequency with which his structures have crashed under the weight of mid-season burdens, Connie Mack is a builder himself and his Athletics are going to get there—not next season, but not many after that.

Mack has started to spend money and he doesn't need much more to get a fighting first division team.

Missin' 'Em

Columbus Bull Dogs are comin',
Bow, wow, wow!
Let's tie a can to 'em,
Wow, wow, wow!

WE SAY HELLO, GINGS

If that person who didn't believe that Gings had a team, will come to the Graham Annex tonight, they can see 'em in action against the R. H. S. colts.

Jimmie Hyatt will take his Arlington tossers up to Fairview tonight. These two teams appear evenly matched, but Arlington is going to put across a win, Jimmie says.

The Newcastle Courier says that the entire populace of Spiceland will witness the game tonight in Newcastle. Hittin' 'em would suggest that while they are all up there, it would be a good time for the semi-annual robbery of the Spiceland bank. They're about due.

LET'S UPSET THE DOPE

To satisfy idle curiosity of a few, we will state that the second team can't beat the first, or come anyway near it, one of the varsity squad members very cockingly boasts. He says further, "In the last practice game the varsity took them to the tune of something like 65 to 21, using a full line of subs." Hittin' 'em doesn't wish to create any ill feeling between those two teams, but why don't you varsity players do that in the big games?

Columbus isn't bringing any rooters tonight, says the Columbus Republican, because they don't think the boys will need much encouraging. So Rushville if Hittin' 'em was you, he'd play his best game of the season tonight, and make the Bull Dogs wish they hadn't come at all. Rushville fans, who have been falling by the wayside, ought to come out in large numbers tonight, and lend their support.

Ten little fingers
And ten little toes,
Whistlin' for the whistle
There it goes!

Ten little fingers
And ten little toes,
Caged a field basket
So the story goes.

Ten little fingers
And ten little toes,
Didn't do it again,
And out he goes!

John Geraghty forgot to tell us who his foe was going to be tonight. If John's Webb team wins tonight, we will know all about it—but if he loses, no one will know it.

HERE'S SALLY AGAIN

Sally, who lives down near our alley, has interrupted us again. She admits that she never saw a basketball game, but she is reading what Hittin' 'em says every night. She tells us that she has been in Fairview many times, but she has never seen any building there that would accommodate eight basketball teams at once. Now listen, Sal! gal, all eight of those teams don't play at once—they sorta divide the time out and each team plays a game—but this touny stuff is too deep to explain, unless you become a regular fan.

HITTIN' 'EM WOULDN'T PLAY AT ALL
"Markin' up a Few on the Score Board," appearing in the Newcastle Courier speaks most friendly advice to one of the high school players, as follows: If Jennings plays Friday night, it would be very nice if he would wash some of the butter off his fingers before entering the contest.

WED SAY IT WITH FLOWERS
And from the same scribe, they speak most lovingly of their opponents.—Don't forget to knock Spiceland for a row of home knitted, chocolate covered, glass monkey wrenches.

Eight field goals, and six fouls; was Stewart's share in the 36 points amassed for the Rushville independent team at Carthage last night.

NOTHER GAME SATURDAY

Hittin' 'em saw a bill in a window down town today, in which it says there is to be another game here Saturday night. The Rushville second team is to play Huntington, and the R. H. S. faculty is to play the ineligible in high school. That's all we know about it.

CONFERENCE SCHOOLS WILL PUSH WRESTLING

"Big Ten" Will Have Many Good
Teams in the Field This Season,
According to Reports

WILL BE A POPULAR SPORT

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Big ten colleges are preparing this winter to popularize wrestling.

When college enthusiasts look horns on the grappling mat, it is a fight in earnest, and big ten coaches believe it is their duty to rescue the wrestling game from the disrepute the professionals and their "rasslin'" trust have dragged it into.

Nearly all of the western conference colleges and the midwest schools will have a record string of grapplers.

The opening clash of conference teams Friday night will see two prominent football stars matched in the heavyweight division. Jim McMillen, star Illinois guard, and Larry Horton, Northwestern's crack center will furnish the feature meet of the clash between the two schools.

Wrestling in the colleges is monopolizing the minor sport interest. Football, track and basketball stars turn to wrestling as the best second for their athletic proclivities.

Ohio State's call for grapplers, brought 78 recruits. At Ames, where champions are produced annually, they do not report so many entries but they proclaim talent of championship calibre.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Northwestern, Indiana, and Chicago all claim good wrestling teams.

CALLS MINOR LEAGUES
ARMS AGAINST MAJORS

President M'Carthy of Pacific Coast
League Issues Statement on Op-
tional Player Limit

JUDGE LANDIS IS SILENT

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 12.—The call to arms of the Pacific Coast League and other minor baseball organizations against the majors went forth today in a bristling statement, issued by President Wm. McCarthy of the coast league.

The statement was aimed at Judge K. M. Landis, baseball dictator, and his decision on the optional player clause of the minor-major agreement.

"The decision of Judge Landis makes the agreement a mere scrap of paper," declared McCarthy.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, will have nothing to say "now or never" in reply to the bitter attack on the major leagues made by William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, as a result of raising the optional player limit from eight to fifteen.

The judge, a fighter, showed his admiration for another scrapper however, when after reading McCarthy's statement, he remarked that the "Pacific Coast League president had done 'pretty well'."

"I don't think it is worth while to make a reply though," he said.

FIGHT RESULTS

Fort Thomas, Ky.—Rapid Waters, Fort Thomas, was given the referee's decision, over Tommy Teague, Muncie, Ind., in a five round bout.

SPORT CHATTER

New York.—Joe Moore, New York, won his second skating title in a week by taking the metropolitan championship with a total of 100 points.

Annapolis.—Louis L. Modala, appointed to the naval academy from the ranks of the marine corps, is the strongest midshipman at the academy. He won the all-around tests with a total of 7,345 points.

New York.—With a total entry of 1,434 for the 1923 Futurity, all records have been broken, according to West Chester Racing association. Harry Payne Whitney with 99 entries, heads the list.

New York.—Very few changes in the rating of American tennis stars appear on the 1922 ranking list announced by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

William T. Tilden, holder of the unofficial world's championship title, again heads the list of mens singles stars, while Molla Mallory, the women champion, is again the leader in her class. Tilden and Vincent Richards head the list in mens doubles. Arnold W. Jones of Providence is first in the junior singles and W. W. Ingram, Providence, is first in the junior doubles. David O'Loughlin, Pittsburg, is first in the boys' singles.

New York.—In ability to secure the players demanded by the Vernon club has caused the New York Yankees to call off the deal for Jake May star-pitcher of the Pacific Coast league. "Their demands were impossible," Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yanks said.

New York.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, has arrived today to push his challenge for a championship fight with Jack Dempsey.

"I know I'm ready and I will do anything the commission asks to prove that I am deserving the chance," Gibbons said.

Chicago.—Joe Blouin out classed Joe Falcaro of New York in the second block of their forty game match here. Blouin averaging 240 1-10, spilled the pins for a total of 2,402 while Falcaro was counting 1,907. The score of the match now stands Blouin 4,510, Falcaro 4,067.

Annapolis.—Princeton and the Navy football teams play in the new Baltimore stadium next fall on October 27.

New York.—No Sunday conflicts between the New York Giants and the Yanks will appear on the 1923 baseball schedule, according to John Heydler, national league president. The National League opens April 17 with the Giants in Boston, the Phillies in Brooklyn and the Pirates in Chicago and the Cardinals in Cincinnati.

New York.—Bill Roper will retire as resident football coach at Princeton and he will be succeeded by "Red" Gennert, Freshman coach according to a report.

Cincinnati.—"Rube Benton is one of the squarrest ball players I ever handled and he will play with the St. Paul club if the Reds are kept from signing him," Mike Kelly, manager of the St. Paul club said.

Mrs. George Edmonson entertained the Neighborhood Club Thursday afternoon at her home in West First street. Three tables of euchre were in session during the afternoon and at the close of the card games the hostess served delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee. The next meeting of the club will be held January 25 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Trennepohl.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Glenwood M. E. church was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. S. Wilson, near Glenwood. The meeting was in charge of the president and fifteen members and ten guests were present. Mrs. Meneur of Connersville was present and gave a short talk. After the program and business session a social hour was featured and light refreshments were served. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Orhlitree and the leader will be Mrs. Ella Fulton.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week Mrs. J. T. Paxton entertained The Tarry-A-While club and the Glenwood Sorosis at her home in West Seventh street, with a combined meeting and a number of other guests were also present. For the entertainment of the guests the following program was given: paper on "Rebecca"; by Mrs. Emma Powell; special music, and an interesting review of the "Passion Play," by Mrs. Martha Grindle. At the close of the program the hostess served the forty guests present with a dainty luncheon.

The newly elected officers of the State Assembly Woman's Club met yesterday for luncheon at the Ayres tea room with Mrs. C. J. Buchanan, president, presiding. At this meeting it was decided that the club would meet for luncheon each Wednesday, the time and place to be announced.

later. Among the committee chairmen appointed were: Mrs. Floyd V. Miller of Elkhart of the membership committee and Mrs. Clem J. Richards of Terre Haute of the time and place committee.

women in legal matters. The budget committee whipping its report into shape for presentation to the governor by tonight may follow a neutral course in regard to Governor McCray's request for a $2,000,000 appropriation to complete the reformatory at Pendleton.

It was learned today that some of the committee were firm in their opposition to the proposed appropriation and refused to make concessions. The other members were just as firm in their support of Governor McCray giving rise to the possibility of a silent report on the reformatory project.

Working steadily through the night clerks under direction of Jesse Eschbach, chairman of the committee, were completing their labors. Ed Farmer, chief clerk of the committee was behind locked doors and no one was permitted to bother him. The report was due in the governor's hands January 1, but the task of sifting the appropriation requests of institutions and departments of state government was too great to be finished by that time. It was understood the governor asked for the report.

As a result of the labors of the committee and its corps of clerks will come before the legislature within a short time after its completion carrying appropriations for all departments and institutions in the state. It will give a section to each and will list both general and specific appropriations as a departure from the old system of having the legislature considering two separate appropriation measures for general and specific uses.

Paris, Jan. 12.—Sarah Bernhardt's physicians ordered her to remain indoors without seeing her friends today, but the famous tragedienne disobeyed their orders and decided to go on a carriage ride in the country.

"GRINGO"

By ALICE ROHE
(Written for United Press)
New York, Jan. 5.—Sometimes a play comes along which combines authenticity of color and atmosphere—a visual and emotional realism—and at the same time, satisfies the minority of theatre goers, who believe that drama can still be romantic which has an intellectual analysis of the causes motivating actions.

This has happened twice this season, once in "Rain" and now in Sophie Treadwell's "Gringo".

Miss Treadwell in her first play, at least in the first night version, has not escaped dramatic pitfalls. She has crowded too much in three acts, has brought a dramatically alien interest to her final curtain and has sometimes incompletely characterized her people.

But she has done two things that make her entrance into playwrighting a "hope and a promise"—she has reproduced life with the understanding of a brilliant and serious thinker, and she has given a character to the modern drama, which through the artistry of Edna Hibbard is a classic of delineation. Its importance for students of life should command attention beyond the limits of the drama.

Although Jose Ruben is the starred performer in "Gringo" and gives an excellent portrayal of Tito, the fascinating one-eyed Mexican revolutionary opportunist—evidently inspired by Villa—it is Edna Hibbard's performance as Bessie Chivers which is the outstanding feature of the play.

Miss Hibbard portrays the half-breed daughter of the American miner, Chivers. The sixteen year old girl in whom the forces of life are surging and who is responding to their call though she does not understand the cause of her unrest, is a psychological study so superbly conceived and acted as to make it without comparison in its frank thought delicately handled projection of realism before the footlights.

There is one scene between this girl, throbbing with disturbing forces, and her father, to whom she confides her unrest, which is startling in its poignant human appeal.

It is fortunate that this character of Bessie, so intelligently written, has fallen into such intelligent hands. "Gringo" is a play of Mexican life. The action is in the mountains, the first and second acts at the entrance of Chivers mine; the third in Tito's retreat. A truer picture of the relations of Americans and Mexicans, it is safe to say, has never been portrayed on the stage.

There are daring bits of life philosophy brought out dramatically in these contrasting peoples. And against the vivid background, where Tito's audacious figure, now fascinating women, now blackmailing Chivers, to whom he has sold his wife Concha, swaggers impudently among the American conscientious objector Light and his wife Myra; the American engineer, the miner Chivers, Concha, the peons—there stands out in high relief the girl Bessie, living her drama to the point where she chooses to follow Tito as his woman.

The two excellent stage settings were designed by Andrew Dasburg, Guthrie McClintic is the producer of this play at the Comedy Theatre.

DIVERTS BEAST'S ATTENTION

Animal Trainer Seriously Injured but Saves Children

Macon, Ga., Jan. 12.—Steve Batty, animal trainer, was seriously injured in a successful fight to save small children from a wild leopard. The beast escaped from its cage into an adjoining cage, where a paper partition stood between it and a group of children.

Realizing the danger, Batty jumped into the cage to distract the big cat's attention. The leopard leaped on him, lashing and biting. Attendants shot the leopard.

NOW THE TENT HAT

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 12.—The tent hat was put on the style market here today. Here is its description by Carl Kapka, secretary of a tent and awning manufacturers association:

The hair must be done into a compact little mound in the top of the head.

In the mound place a "tent pole" one foot long. Over it all stretch one foot of square canvass, using the ears as "tent pegs". A ribbon will furnish decoration.

Argus Wagoner of Orange Township First in Yellow Corn Class

Argus Wagoner, Orange township farmer, won first prize in the class for ten ears of yellow corn in section three, at the Indiana corn show held this week at Purdue university in connection with the annual farmers' short course.

The state is divided into sections composed of a number of counties and the sectional winners then compete for the state prize. Robert Stewart of Hope, Bartholomew county, took the championship in this class when the sectional winners showed against each other.

Chicago "Shieks" Are Having Their Troubles

Chicago, Jan. 12.—"Shieks" of Chicago were having troubles all their own today as the result of the "revenge" of Pretty Thelma Reed.

Thelma, soda jerker in one of the most popular "cake eater" drug stores here, dosed one "shiek's" soda with a lusty dash of castor oil.

Thelma's revenge was the result of disillusionment when she married Joe Gates in Indianapolis. Thelma declared that Joe "oiled" his hair, carried a book with a long list of girls names and addresses and worst of all "he suggested that I get a job on our wedding night."

So Thelma ran away and came to Chicago where she started out to get revenge. Last night detectives appeared at the drug store and took Thelma into custody. The girl though the police had learned of her castor oil antics and told the whole story.

The police however, had received a telegram from Thelma's sister Tipton, Ind., asking that she be held until her arrival there.

heavily. The government's action in guaranteeing the miners' pay has somewhat relieved this fear, however.

The Ammoniac-Producers' Union and also the customs office has moved its papers and books from Bochum, fearing invasion by the French. It has been unofficially reported the next move of the Ruhr force would be to enclose Bochum.

Early today there was no evidence that the French had marched beyond Essen.

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Jan. 12.—Germany has given her word to the United States that as a result of the French occupation of the Ruhr she will not "meet violence with violence". This and the fact that Germany declares she will not renounce the Versailles treaty were the outstanding points in a note from the Berlin government which protested against French invasion of the Ruhr.

While the note is an appeal to the United States to place her influence on the side of Germany, this government is contemplating no action as a result of it.

It feels that it has done all it can to prevent the present situation.

The administration now is giving consideration to demands in the senate for the withdrawal of the American observer on the reparations commission, Ronald W. Boyton, but a definite decision has not been reached.

After denying the French right under the Versailles treaty, to invade Germany, the German note which was received at the state department last night, thus announces the policies of Germany during the occupation:

"The German government herewith enters a protest against the oppression applied toward Germany in contradiction to the treaty and international law.

"The German government does not intend to meet violence with violence nor to reply to the breach of the treaty with a withdrawal from the treaty. However, as long as the state of affairs contrary to the treaty exists, Germany is not in a position to make actual reparations to those powers who have brought about this state of affairs.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Mrs. F. A. Baumann was dead and Mrs. Roy Hankermeier was probably blinded for life as the result of heroic unsuccessful attempts to rescue their babies from fires.

Mrs. Baumann was trapped in her apartment when a furnace exploded in the basement. Firemen found her clutching her baby boy to her breast. Both died later.

Mrs. Hankermeier left her baby Donald aged 3 in her apartment and went to the grocery. When she came back the building was in flames. Despite efforts of the firemen she rushed into the building. Firemen found them clutched in each others arms. The baby was dead.

ESCAPE WITH SECURITIES

Thieves' Loot Home Of Wealthy Farmer At South Bend

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 12.—Authorities today had no clues to the identity of the robbers who escaped with $13,250 in securities after rifling the home of James I. Frame, 72 wealthy farmer here.

Frame who lived alone on the outskirts of the city, was known as a recluse. He left his home for a few hours and returning found it had been ransacked and his strongbox taken. Frame declared papers in the box included $11,000 in promissory notes; $2,000 in stock certificates and $250 in liberty bonds.

Police believe the robbers were after $25,000 Frame was said to have from the sale of a farm recently.

You can taste the difference in ZEPHYR bakings

SOMEHOW the snowy-white cake seems sweeter and richer the very first time you bake with Zephyr flour. Rolls, too, have a new fluffy lightness and pie crusts are tender and wholesome. The secret's in the milling of the choice Kansas wheat, so full of healthful nourishment. Zephyr is always uniform in quality, each sack just like the last. That's worth remembering when you compare ordinary flour with Zephyr.

WEEKLY STORE NEWS

From ALLEN'S

Business for 1923 has started off with a rush and we are confident that a year of prosperity is in store for all who put forth their best efforts.

Did you ever buy an unknown brand of goods at a supposed to be bargain price and find that you had been stung? It is our policy to buy the best goods to be had. Our lines are standard and we sell at a standard price. We do not try to make our customers believe that we are selling them a fancy article for the price of a common grade of the same article.

Take canned peaches for example, we have peaches for 20c, 25c, 30c and 35c per can and all good value for the price but we do not try and make you believe that our 20c grade is of 30c quality.

We have a splendid line of prunes. The markets have advanced considerably since our stock was bought and we are selling larger sizes at our present prices than we would be able to if bought at today's market.

You will always find a splendid display of fruits and vegetables at our store and sold at fair and honest prices.

Loyalty Flour is proving to be the best flour that we have ever sold. For a flour that was never heard of in Rush county until about 30 days ago the business we have already established is remarkable. Single bags sell for $1.15. We will quote barrel prices on request.

An Unusual Gift For The President of United States

PRESENTS HARDING WITH PART OF TRUE CROSS AND ORDER

The Rt. Rev. Panelmon, Archbishop of Meapolis, Palestine, personal legate of beatitude, damian, orthodox patriarch of the Holy City of Jerusalem and all Palestine, who presented President Harding with a piece of the cross upon which it is believed Jesus Christ was crucified. At the same time the President was made a Knight of the Order of the Holy Sepulcher, and was given insignia of the order, a gold crown at its head suspended on a scarlet cord. Within the cross was the splinter of wood, said to have been taken from the true cross. The insignia was set with four diamonds.

AMUSEMENTS

At Mystic Saturday

Arrow Film Corporation announces the presentation at the Mystic theatre on Saturday of the Ben Wilson production, "Desert's Crucible," starring the celebrated cowboy star, Jack Hoxie, and including in the cast Claude Payton and Andree Tourneur. The picture was directed by Roy Clements, who also wrote the story. In his screen career Jack Hoxie has played many parts, all very much alike in general characteristics, but in this picture he offers his numerous admirers a novel impersonation—he plays two parts, one that of a young fellow who is fed up on society life, and is sent to a ranch to be made over into a man; that of his own brother, an Indiana half-breed with personal traits and characteristics, directly the opposite of the other character.

It is a strong and exciting story, and Jack Hoxie very skillfully brings out the distinctive peculiarities of each character. There is an apparent resemblance physically between the two characters, but there it ends.

Last Showing Today

Had not Denman Thompson, in 1875 then a variety artist, been attacked by rheumatism, "The Old Homestead" might never have been written. This classic, which will be seen on the screen as a Paramount picture at the Princess for the last time today, was originally a short sketch called "Joshua Whitecomb." Mr. Thompson, confined to his room by the malady, was unable to do his song and dance number, and he wrote the sketch "Uncle Josh" for future use. Later it was expanded into a three-act play and finally rewritten and rechristened "The Old Homestead." It was first produced in its final stage form in 1886 at the Boston Theatre. Mr. Thompson played Uncle Josh for thirty-two consecutive years.

Theodore Roberts interprets Mr. Thompson's famous version. George Fawcett plays Eph Holbrook and T. Roy Barnes is the tramp, Happy Jack. Fritz Ridgway plays the role of Ann and Harrison Ford is seen as Reuben. James Mason, Ethel Wales, Kathleen O'Connor and others appear in the cast, in important parts. The settings, especially that showing the old homestead and the village of Ganzy are really remarkable. Forty houses comprised the village setting which are ultimately destroyed by a storm said to be one of the most realistic ever pictured. James Cruze was the director.

LARGE CROWDS EACH NIGHT

The revival meeting in progress at the Wesley M. E. church is attracting larger crowds each night, and much interest is being shown. The meetings will probably continue next week.

Hawkins Succeeded By Bickel At Head Of U. P.

New York, Jan. 12.—William W. Hawkins, president of the United Press Associations for the past three years has resigned that position and is succeeded by Karl A. Bickel, it was announced today.

Hawkins, who has been connected with the United Press since its foundation in 1907 leaves that organization to become executive manager of the business department of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, comprising evening dailies in twenty five American cities. Under his direction as president the United Press broadened and strengthened its connections to the point of practically doubling the scope of its business.

Karl A. Bickel, elected as successor to Hawkins, joined the United Press first in 1907 on the Pacific coast and served as bureau manager in Portland, Ore. Later, he became a member of the general business staff, and for several years was business manager. Two years ago Bickel was appointed general news manager, and later general manager from which position he is advanced to the presidency.

Didn't Know His Brother

"My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin, and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctors and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which he said described his case perfectly. The first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." ## ELECTRIC RAILWAY SHOWS INCREASES

Companies Throughout the Country Made Gains in 1922, Despite Bus and Auto Competition

OLD RECORDS ARE BROKEN

More Than 15 Billion People Used Electric Lines During the Year—Outlook is Distinctly Hopeful

New York, Jan. 12.—Electric railway conditions throughout the United States improved during 1922, according to the annual report of C. D. Emmons, president of the American Electric Railway Association made public here today.

"Statistics based on detailed reports from companies representing one-third of the country's mileage show that, despite the growing use of pleasure automobile and keen bus competition in many sections, more persons rode on electric railways during 1922 than in 1921," Emmons said. "The total number of passengers carried exceeded fifteen billion. Up to May there was a falling off in revenue passengers over

GOLD AND GEMS FOUND

ANTIQUE TREASURE OF $40,000,000 FOUND IN TOMB OF EGYPTIAN KING AT ANCIENT THEBES

Treasures valued at $40,000,000 have been unearthed in the tomb of Tutankhamen near Luxor—site of ancient Thebes—by Howard Carter, American Archaeologist and explorer, and the Earl of Carnarvon, who have been excavating there for seven years. Photo shows Lady Allenby, wife of the great British General, leaving the tomb after looking at the discovery. Huge statues of pure gold and the gem studded throne of Tutankhamen—who was a King of the 18th Egyptian dynasty, who reigned around 1350—are among the valuable relics found in the tomb. The find is also of great artistic and archaeological value.

last year but since that time generally there has been a steady increase.

"Net operating revenues increased 7.4 percent in spite of the fact that the gross revenue was off 2 1/2 percent, owing to general fare reductions per passenger from 7.49 to 7.33 cents. A decrease of 5.9 percent in operating expenses served in great measure to offset the fare reduction loss.

"Receivership records for the year are encouraging. Detailed reports from January 1 to December 15, 1922 show that properties with a total mileage of only 517 and total outstanding securities of $30,986,000 went into receivership, while roads with 458 miles of track and total securities of $88,729,350 came out.

"The general tendency among regulatory bodies is to keep fares at a level proportionate to increased material and labor costs. The average fare today in a group of 275 representative cities is approximately 43 percent higher than it was at the outbreak of the war, while the average wage increase is 91 percent and the average material cost increase is 102 percent.

"Fares range from 5 to 10 cents in 607 leading cities. The 7 cent fare is operative in the largest single number of cities, 184; the 10 cent fare comes second in 144, and the 6 cent fare third in 102. Other cities of this group are paying—8 cents, 79; 8 cent fare, 1 cent transfer charge, 26; 5 cents, 20; 5 cents city one, 5 cents outside, 14; 5 cents fare reduced from higher fare, 13; 6 cent city zone, 7; 5 cent fare, additional charge for transfers, 7; two 5 cents zones, 2, 6 cent zones, 1; 6 cent city zone, 1 cent charge for rides outside, 1; 6 cent zones, average length two miles, 1.

"The bus situation particularly is clarifying. Whereas a year ago bus competition had reached such a point that electric railways in several cities were compelled to suspend operations temporarily, today managements, regulatory bodies and the public gradually are co-operating more generally in an effort to find the proper place for the bus. At its last convention, the American Electric Railway Association declared that it was the duty of each electric railway company to supply all local transportation in its community and that it should install buses, where necessary and be protected from destructive competition by other agencies. Indications point widespread recognition of the soundness of this policy.

"Summarized, the outlook is distinctly hopeful."

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Elizabeth D. Smith, president of the Woman's Relief Corps of Indiana has sent out a call to the 112 chapters in the state, urging that all contributions of members of the organization to the building fund of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, be sent direct to Mrs. Susan Higgins, 256 North Rural street, Indianapolis, state treasurer of the relief corps. The relief corps with approximately 10,000 members in Indiana, will raise a memorial fund for the Riley Hospital and in recognition of their efforts the name of the organization will be forever perpetuated by a memorial within the completed institution which is now under construction here. The Riley Hospital will be a $2,000,000 institution as a memorial to the famous Hoosier poet and for the care and treatment of sick and crippled Indiana children.

ROYAL TRIANGLE STARTLES EUROPE

A royal divorce, according to latest reports, is imminent and those whom it will concern are Crown Prince Carol of Roumania and his wife, formerly Princess Helen of Greece. The Princess, it is said, is making preparations to file an action in Paris alleging desertion and misconduct by her husband, who has returned to Mme. Jeanne Lambrino, his morganatic wife. Princess Helen is believed to have returned to her home in Athens with her five months old child, and it is thought that as soon as she is divorced she will wed a wealthy Greek banker, who has been much in love with her for some time, it is alleged. Thus both will follow the dictates of their hearts, and throw their titles to the wind. Carol will lose his throne while the Princess will forfeit her title. Photo shows Crown Prince Carol with his wife, wearing the picturesque peasant garb of Roumania which is so becoming to her.

Alex Walker and Miss Sophia Knollenberg entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Dr. and Mrs. Prosser Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wess Christian and children Pearl and Ambrose Telestrom.

Mrs. Harry Logan is ill at her home here.

KELLOGG'S BRAN gives permanent relief

because it is ALL BRAN!

With the most dangerous diseases close on the trail of sufferers from constipation, there's no time to waste on foods with a low bran content! The one answer to constipation is BRAN that is ALL BRAN! That's why you should eat Kellogg's—and eat it regularly; at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases! KELLOGG'S BRAN IS SCIENTIFICALLY PREPARED TO RELIEVE SUFFERING HUMANITY AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Don't delay a minute! Get started on Kellogg's Bran to-day and your health will steadily improve and bowel conditions return to normal, no matter how long you have suffered with constipation, mild or chronic.

Remember that Kellogg's Bran is not an artificial laxative, but nature's own bulk food that acts as sweeper, cleanser and purifier. Its work for health is wonderful! Besides, bran contains the most valuable mineral salts and other life-sustaining elements—it is a blood maker and bone and tissue-builder!

Kellogg's Bran, being cooked and krumbled, is delicious eaten as a cereal, or sprinkled on hot or cold cereals. Another happy way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with your favorite hot cereal. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person; cooking the cereal as usual.

You can make the most delightful muffins, raisin bread, pancakes, macaroons, etc., with Kellogg's Bran—and it's fine in gravies, soups and purees.

The big thing is to get started on Kellogg's Bran quickly—for the sake of the health of your entire family—AND SERVE IT REGULARLY! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant!

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

TREE PLANTING ON ROAD-SIDE URGED

State Forester Starts Drive To Have
70,000 Miles Of Highways
Lined With Trees

HAS A TWO-FOLD PURPOSE

Would Beautify The Roads And Aid
In Reforestation—Eleven Million
Could Be Planted

Indianapolis Ind., Jan. 12.—A drive for 70,000 miles of tree-lined highways in Indiana was started today by Charles C. Deam, state forester in the conservation department.

Deam urged farmers and other persons living along public highways to plant trees along all road-sides both as a means of reforestation and of beautifying the roads.

Two million dollars worth of log wood would be produced in fifty years by this means and none of the roadside land would be wasted, Deam said.

Governor McCray and state highway officials favor trees along state roads and frequently the commission has directed its engineers to curve roads slightly where it would not cause interference with traffic.

Eleven million trees could be planted along Indiana roads, Deam said. This is equivalent to 100,000 acres of forest timber. These trees in fifty years would produce about 2,000,000 feet of lumber which at present figures would be worth $2,000,000 on the stump.

Deam said he favors walnut or hickory trees because of the quality of the wood and because they would yield a profit in nuts. Aside from the $2,000,000 worth of standing trees, there would be immense value in the branches and limbs which could be used for fence posts and put to other uses also.

The state forester suggests that because telephone wires follow one side of the road, it is better to plant trees on the side where they will not interfere with telephonic communication.

He points out that trees should not be planted nearer than 200 to 300 feet of road intersection, and steam and electric line crossings for they must not obstruct distances. Highway officials suggest that care be exercised in planting near curves, and, insists that sight distances be unobstructed so that traffic overland be in no way menaced.

The annual consumption of nuts is rapidly increasing because people realize they are rich in vitamins. A walnut tree forty to fifty years old ordinarily bears a bushel or more of nuts, the market value this year of which is $1.50 to $2.00. Hickory nuts now sell for $3.00 to $4.00 a bushel.

These do not bear every year or they occasionally fail in a full crop; but in face of this if the 11,000,000 roadside nut trees would bear the equivalent of a full crop every three and one-half years, then the annual nut crop from them would be worth approximately $5,000,000, Deam says.

Walnut and hickory are favored of their deep root system enabling them to better withstand drought and the ravages of insect pests and scale diseases. They produce only a minimum of shade and not a sufficient abundance to damage nearby crops. In fact such species in addition to the valuable timber and nut crops produced, will afford considerable protection to adjacent crops from strong winds, it is pointed out by conservation officials.

Mr. Deam advises landowners to plant hickory and walnut trees in the early spring. He cites attention that many farmers who are looking to the future already have planted some trees along their fences; but contends that concerted action all over the state is the only way to get their timber again flourishing in Indiana.

KIWANIANS PLEDGE $4,200

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 13.—Members of the Richmond Kiwanis Club pledged $4,200 to the $150,000 fund being raised by the Kiwanis clubs of the state for the erection of one of the ward buildings of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, now under construction in Indianapolis. The ward building will be known as the Indiana District Kiwanis Building. The clubs already have raised more than $80,000 of the fund.

CHAPTER XII

Wherein AN Is Made Clear

Overcome with pity, I endeavored to utter some futile words, which she at once put an end to by an appealing gesture.

"You can say nothing," she began. "I have made an awful mistake the worst a woman can make. I think. 'You love Dorothy; does Dorothy love you?'"

My answer was an honest one.

"I have dared to hope so, despite the little opportunity she has given me to express my feelings. She has always held me back."

"Oh, Dorothy!"

Regret, sorrow, tenderness, all were audible in that cry.

"How I must have made her suffer! I have been a curse to those who loved me. But I am humbled now, and very rightly."

Gilbertine, pausing at the door she had unconsciously approached, remarked gravely:

"I am going out of your life. Before I do so, however, I should like to say a few words in palliation of my conduct. I have never known a mother. I early fell under my aunt's charge, sent away to school, where I was well enough treated, but never loved."

"Years passed. I was a woman, but neither my happiness nor my self confidence had kept pace with my growth. Romance was my life, and I had fallen into the dangerous habit of brooding over the pleasures and excitements which would have been mine had I been born beautiful and wealthy, when my aunt suddenly visited the school, saw me and at once took me away and placed me in the most fashionable school in New York City. From there I was launched, without any word of motherly counsel, into the gay society you know so well. I found the world at my feet. Mr. Sinclair visited me, took me to theatres and eventually proposed. My aunt was in ecstasies. I, who felt helpless before her will, was glad that the husband she had chosen for me was, at least, a gentleman. But he was not the man I had dwelt on in my dreams, and while I accepted him I cared so little for Mr. Sinclair himself that I forgot to ask if his many attentions were the result of any real feeling on his part. How I despise myself now for this miserable frivolity!

"All this time I knew that I was not my aunt's only niece; that Dorothy Camerton, of whom I knew little but her name, was as closely related to her as I was. When she found that I was to leave her she sent for Dorothy. I shall never forget my first impression of her. From my first glimpse of her dear face, I saw that my soul's friend had come and that marriage or no marriage, I need never be solitary again."

"I do not think I made as favorable an impression on my cousin as she did on me."

"I loved her, but, from blindness of eye or an overwhelming egotism, I did not consider her beautiful. I never imagined for a moment that it was on her account you visited the house so often. I gave you all my heart and, what was worse, confided my folly to Dorothy."

"The explanations which I gave of the part I played in my aunt's death were true. I only omitted one detail, which you may consider a very important one. The fact which paralyzed my hand and voice when I saw her lift the drop of death to her lips was this: I had meant to die by this drop myself, in Dorothy's

"Gilbertine," I prayed, "do not go, till I have said this. A young girl does not always know the demands of her own nature. The heart you have ignored is one in a thousand. Do not let it slip from you. God never gives a woman such a love twice."

"I know it," she murmured. Suddenly I caught one last word whispered from the threshold:

"Throw back the shutters and let in the light. Dorothy is coming. I am going now to call her."

An hour had passed, the hour of hours for me, for in it Dorothy and I came to understand each other. We were sitting hand in hand in this blessed little boudoir, when suddenly she turned her face toward me and gently remarked:

"This seems like selfishness on our part; but Gilbertine insisted."

"You may think I did wrong not to tell her of your affection for myself. I did do wrong; I see it now. She was really a stronger woman than I thought and we might all have been saved the horrors which have befallen us had I acted with more firmness at that time. When she heard you were to be Mr. Sinclair's best man, every feminine instinct within her rebelled and it was with difficulty she could prevent herself from breaking out into a loud No! in face of aunt and lover. From this moment on her state of mind grew desperate. In my little room at night she would bury her face in my lap and talk of death, till I moved in a constant atmosphere of dread. One night I found her out of her bed long after every one else had retired for the night. Next morning Mr. Beaton told a dream—I hope it was a dream—but it frightened me. Then came that moment when Mr. Sinclair displayed the amethyst box and explained how a drop from the little flask inside would kill a person. I felt the thrill which shot like lightning through her, and made up my mind she should never have the opportunity of touching that box. And that is why I stole into the library and took down the little box and hid it in my hair. I did not pause, to think that it was the flask and not the box she wanted. You know the rest."

Yes, I knew it. How she opened the box in her room and found it empty. How she flew to Gilbertine's room and, finding the door unlocked, looked in, and saw Miss Lane lying there asleep but no Gilbertine. How her alarm grew at this and how she had wandered over the house in the hope of coming upon Gilbertine in one of the down-stairs rooms. She turned back only to hear that awful scream go up as she was setting foot upon the spiral stair. She found it impossible to proceed any further, but clung to the stair-rail, half-alive and half-dead, till she was taken up to her aunt's room. When therefore she said, "You know the rest," I took her in my arms and gave her my first kiss. The coroner who had seen much of life and human nature, managed with much discretion the inquest he felt bound to hold Mrs. Lansing was found to have come to her death by a meddlesome interference with one of her niece's wedding trinkets. The verdict was duly accepted and the real heart of this tragedy closed for ever from every human eye. As we were leaving Newport, Sinclair stepped up to me.

"I have reason to know," said he, "that Mrs. Lansing's bequests will be a surprise, not only to her nieces, but to the world at large. Let me advise you to announce your engagement before reaching New York."

I followed his advice and in a few days understood why it had been given. All the vast property owned by this woman had been left to Dorothy. Gilbertine had been cut off without a cent. We never knew Mrs. Lansing's reason for this act.

The discrimination she showed in her will put Gilbertine in a very unfortunate position. At least, it would have done so, if Sinclair, with an adroitness worthy of his love, had not proved to her that a break at this time in their supposed relations would reflect most seriously upon his disinterestedness and thus secured for himself opportunities for urging his suit which ended, as such opportunities often do, in a renewal of their engagement. But this time mutual love was its basis.

But how the magic was wrought, I did not know till later, and then it was told me by Gilbertine herself. I had been married for some months and she for some weeks, when one evening chance drew us together. Instantly she turned upon me and said:

"You once gave me some very good advice, Mr. Worthington, but it was not that which led me to realize Mr. Sinclair's affection. It was a short conversation which passed between us on the day my aunt's will was read. Do you remember my turning to speak to him the moment after that word, all fell from the lawyer's lips?"

"It was to ask him one question, a question to which misfortune only could have given so much weight. Had he known that I had no place in her will? His answer was very simple; a single word—'always'. But after that, do I need to say why I am a wife? why I am his wife?"
